Governor's office discloses

State safety agency probe funds misused

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A safety division of the Ohio Industrial Commission has misused funds that were supposed to be spent in the investigation of industrial accidents, according to Gov. James A. Rhodes' office.

"A review of expense vouchers disclosed many unauthorized or questionable expense items which could be classified as abuses," a report prepared by Rhodes' fiscal officer said. Essentially, the 59-page document deals with instances where safety and hygiene money was used for other Industrial Commission activities, some of them questionable. The commission has been a focal point of controversy regarding its role as an arbiter of workmen's compensation claims.

"Where there are illegal expenditures we'll ask for recovery of the funds," Rhodes said Tuesday. "We want to clean up the state."

The governor said Industrial Commission Chairman William Johnston would ask Atty. Gen. William J. Brown to institute such action and prosecute if appropriate.

The internal audit and review, undertaken by Rex E. Haecker, Rhodes' administrative assistant for fiscal affairs, questions travel expenses, banquets and entertainment expenses during the period from Jan. 1, 1972 to March 31, 1976.

Haecker said nearly $10,000 was spent by safety and hygiene employees and industrial commissioners for trips that "cannot be recognized or construed as an authorized expenditure of Safety and Hygiene funds."

This included $4,130 for the travels of former commissioner Gregory J. Stebbins who was ousted from office by the state Senate last month after being charged by Rhodes with corruption.

A check for $298.25 made out to Stebbins on July 11, 1974 was issued without a voucher to document the purpose of payment, the Haecker report said.

The audit found that $174,618 was spent on banquets and connected expenses such as lodging and travel for guests, and honorariums.

"It has been held repeatedly that banquets and dinners are unnecessary for the proper operation of state government," the report said.

In 1975 and 1976, 38 employees were paid gross earnings of more than $201,000 from the safety and hygiene payroll while working on other duties for the Industrial Commission, according to Haecker. The charging of these payroll costs "cannot be approved as being within the statutory objectives or purposes" of the safety fund, he said.

The key problem cited by the report was the failure of the Industrial Commission to establish a safety fund, completely separate from the State Insurance Fund, which is used for workmen's compensation claims. Instead it was maintained as an allocation from the larger fund, based on 3/4 of 1 per cent of employer's contributions.

An excessive surplus of $8.5 million developed in the safety fund as of last March 31, Haecker said, that "created a condition whereby highly questionable expenditures could be made."

"The percentage of allocations for Safety and Hygiene purposes should be reduced to be in line with yearly requirements," he said.

Johnston said he was in the process of setting up a separate account for the safety fund.

Coffee Break . . .

A NEW three-week course entitled "Christmas Craftmaking" will commence November 23, according to Dale Lynch, interim director of the Washington C.H. Area Community Education program.

The classes, which will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. every Tuesday, will take place in the Washington C.H. Middle School home economics classroom.

The course fee is 50 cents per class, and Lynch said that those interested in taking the course, taught by Hilda Downs, should attend the first class time at 6:30 p.m. November 23.

Has high school really changed?

By CINDI PEARCE
Record-Herald Staff Writer

Has high school really changed all that much in the past 20 years? For anyone who really wants to know the answer to that question, there is but one way to find out: go back to school.

That opportunity will be afforded to all parents of Washington Senior High School students on Friday during a day-long program called "Operation SWAP" (Switch With A Parent).

Operation SWAP, an event being held for the first time at Washington Senior High School, will provide parents with an opportunity to switch roles with their children for one day. The participating parents will attend classes throughout the day, or for a portion of the day, in the place of their son or daughter.

According to Washington Senior High School Principal Maurice Pfeifer,

Operation SWAP will give parents a chance to compare school as it is today to how it was when they attended. It will also allow them to see what their children do at school.

"During Operation SWAP the parents will get to see a classroom in a relatively normal situation since not all of the students will be removed from the scene," Pfeifer explained.

Pfeifer, as well as other school administrators and teachers, felt that the parents of Washington Senior High School students needed to become more involved in school. "The best way to achieve this is to have the parents come in and participate and observe while school is occurring."

If a student's parents can't participate in the Operation SWAP program, Pfeifer said that the student could arrange for a substitute parent to attend. The only prerequisite is that the substitute parent has been out of school for at least 10 years.

Estimating that one-fourth of the student body's parents will take part in the Operation SWAP program, Pfeifer said, "The parents will go through the regular school schedule, exactly as it is usually done. Nothing special has been planned since the object of Operation SWAP is to let the parents participate in normal, every day school activities."

Pfeifer said that there would be no time for the parents to have individual conferences with the teachers concerning their children, since classes are to be held as usual.

"The situation might be altered a bit in study hall or perhaps in the physical education classes and other activity classes allowing parents and teachers to talk," Pfeifer said.

The Operation SWAP program is being held as a part of the American Education Week observance in the Washington C.H. School District.

Gilmore overdose to delay execution

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gary Gilmore, the killer who wants to die, may have prolonged his life instead by taking sleeping pills in an apparent lovers' suicide pact that left him and his girl friend hospitalized.

Gilmore, 35, who has fought efforts to delay his execution by a firing squad, remained in what officials called "very serious" condition today with a drug overdose complicated by pneumonia.

He was hospitalized Tuesday after taking sleeping pills and writing a suicide note despite what officials called a prison "suicide watch" to guard against such an attempt.

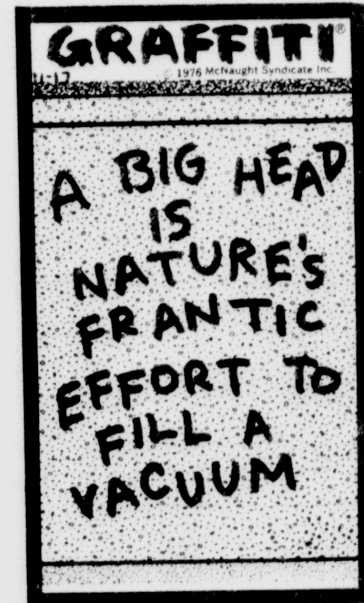

Nicole Barrett, his girl friend, was in critical condition in a coma at a hospital in Provo, 40 miles away from the prison here.

Mrs. Barrett, 20, was found in her apartment on Tuesday morning, with two notes and two empty vials of sleeping pills nearby.

Gilmore's condition forced the Utah Board of Pardons to drop plans to consider his case at its regular hearing today. He was to have pleaded in person for the three-man board to uphold his execution.

Deputy Warden Leon Hatch said the note in Gilmore's Utah State Prison cell said, "I leave all of my personal belongings to my mother."

Asst. Utah County Atty. Brent Bullock refused to discuss the contents of the two notes found near Mrs. Barrett, except to say that they were "like suicide notes."

A prison spokesman said the pills could have been slipped to him by visitors or other inmates and that he could have concealed them under his tongue during routine searches.

Gilmore, convicted of killing Provo motel clerk Bennie Bushnell last summer, was originally sentenced to die on Monday. But the sentence was deferred by outgoing Gov. Calvin L. Rampton.

Jeff Newman, a friend who discovered Mrs. Barrett in her apartment, said she had told him of a suicide pact she and Gilmore had made, but he said he had not believed her. Newman said Mrs. Barrett told him after visiting Gilmore on Monday that she would not be going to the prison Tuesday.

Local program could answer question

Will there be enough food?

A food policy program is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Thursday at the Fayette County extension service meeting room, 319 S. Fayette St.

The meeting, entitled "Your Food" is a part of a national educational project developed by agricultural scientists and food specialists throughout the United States, according to John Gruber, Fayette County agricultural extension agent and coordinator of the Fayette County Meeting. He pointed out that similar meetings are being held in each of Ohio's 88 counties this year.

According to Gruber, the goal of the programs is to provide information about current food issues so the public can better assess the world situation.

Rising food prices during recent years has created much of the concern about the current food situation. But, many Americans are concerned also about the food supply in under developed countries. A big question which will be discussed in the "Your Food" meeting is, will there be enough for all?

Leading food economists say the future of the world food supply depends on a delicate balance between supply and demand.

There are many views about the nation's future food supply. Optimistic people believe that new birth control methods will come to the aid of the population problem. Some agricultural scientists feel that food production will increase due to increasing technology.

Pessimists, on the other hand, feel the situation will not improve. Many fear current population growth rates will double the world population by the year 2000.

Other questions to be discussed at Thursday's food policy program will include: How will food be distributed? How dangerous are food additives? How will government regulations effect food quality? Should the U.S. give food to poor nations?, and other questions relating to the control, production, and distribution of our future food supply.

Gruber emphasized that the meeting is open to the public and will be of interest to area consumers, producers, and businessmen.

Loan scandal case winds up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has concluded a legal struggle to recover $9 million from former state officials involved in the six-year-old Statehouse loan scandal.

"That's the ball game," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen C. Fitch after completing oral arguments in the civil case before the Ohio Supreme Court. The seven-member high court will now mull over state and defense arguments before handing down a decision.

Two lower courts have ruled that former State Treasurer John Herbert, his deputy Robert Gardner, and their bonding companies are not personally liable in the matter.

The state is arguing that Herbert exceeded a $50 million limit on investment in commercial notes in 1970 and is therefore personally liable for an $8 million loan to a company that filed for bankruptcy in 1971.

Gardner made the transaction with King Resources, a Denver, Colo., oil drilling firm which owed $1 million in interest on the loan when it folded.

Two other cases are still pending in which the state is attempting to cover its losses, Fitch said.

Bankruptcy proceedings to reorganize King could benefit the state, he said, and the company's former officers, accountants and attorneys are being sued by Ohio in federal court in Denver.

The scandal, with its wideranging political implications, was credited with seriously damaging Republican fortunes in Ohio and sweeping a number of Democrats into state office, including former Gov. John J. Gilligan. Herbert, a Republican, lost a 1970 election for attorney general to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, who was 31 at the time.

Herbert's lawyer, Paul Tague, argued in court that the treasurer's office went over the $50 million investment limit for only four weeks in 1970. The loan was not certified as delinquent until 1972, he said, 20 months after Herbert left office.

"Any loss that may have occurred thereafter should not be laid at the doorstep," Tague contended.

Chief Justice C. William O'Neill, however, noted that "the law was clear" when Herbert's office bought the King notes.

Justice Thomas M. Herbert (no relation) questioned John Herbert's personal responsibility since the treasurer was not aware that the limit on investments was exceeded when his assistant, Gardner, bought the notes.

In another development, state Board of Deposit is expected to close out another facet of the case at a meeting next month. The board plans action to erase, technically at least, a nonexistent $2.7 million balance in the state treasury stemming from loan dealings with the Four Seasons Nursing Homes.

Four Seasons, which is no longer in existence, also filed for bankruptcy after receiving a loan from the state in 1970. The nursing home loan is not part of the civil suit against Herbert.

Fanne Foxe takes too many pills

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — Fanne Foxe, who splashed into Washington's Tidal Basin and the national news media in a 1975 incident involving former U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills, was hospitalized and released after taking an overdose of pills, her press agent said.

John Carmen said Miss Foxe, whose real name is Annabel Battistella, was taken Tuesday afternoon from her Westport home to Norwalk Hospital, where her stomach was pumped.

Carmen said Miss Foxe told him that she had taken 80 tranquilizers. He said he did not know whether she took the pills accidentally.

Miss Foxe is appearing in an off-Broadway play in New York City.

Soviet atom survival plan copied

SEATTLE (AP) — The Boeing Co. says it has tapped the Soviet Union's civil defense program to develop a system to protect its industrial machinery from a thermonuclear attack and has tested the plan by using Soviet defense manuals.

The protection method involves supporting machines and equipment on polyurethane foam and covering them at the first sign of attack with plastic foam, metal chips, balsa wood, dirt or sandbags.

Boeing estimates that all the nation's industrial machinery could be partially protected for between $1.2 billion and $1.5 billion.

Boeing itself could resume airplane production 12 weeks after a nuclear attack if its machinery is protected in the Soviet manner, the report said.

T.K. Jones, Boeing's program and product evaluation manager, says in his report that the protection method works if industrial plants have 48 hours to prepare for an attack. However, the company said it had not yet found a way to protect the workers who would have to implement the protective measures.

The report was prepared for the U.S. Joint Committee on Defense Production. Jones is to testify today at the committee's opening hearings in Washington, D.C., on proposals for protecting critical U.S. industries against a Soviet nuclear attack.

George Weiss, one of two Boeing representatives in Washington, said Tuesday that the aerospace firm and federal government used conventional explosives to test the theory of the Soviet Union's civil defense program that machinery can be protected through use of plastic foam, metal chips, balsa wood and dirt or sandbags.

Weiss said tests were conducted using Soviet civil defense manuals as a guide. He said he did not know how the company obtained the manuals. He said they are "commonly available inside Russia."

Jones criticized "the widespread notion that nuclear war would be the end of all mankind. ..." But he said if the Soviets execute the defense plan while the United States does not, "the consequences to the United States of escalation to nuclear war would be disastrous while consequences might be tolerable to the Soviet Union."

He said the Soviet Union could recover in "no more than 2 to 4 years," while the United States would need 12 years to recover.

Carter sets meeting with leaders

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders whom Jimmy Carter must deal with to get his legislative program enacted are to meet with the president-elect to discuss the best ways for Carter to work with the House and Senate.

The meeting today is part of Carter's stepped-up involvement in the transition from the Ford administration to his own. The session was to focus on the nation's domestic problems, including unemployment and the economy, and "what the administration should be doing for the next four years," a Carter aide said.

Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale, who arrived Tuesday night in Plains, said a "respectful, cooperative relationship" was needed between Carter and Congress.

Carter's press office and the White House announced jointly on Tuesday that the president-elect would meet Saturday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in Plains and that Carter and President Ford would meet Monday or Tuesday when Carter goes to Washington.

Kissinger, addressing delegates attending the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Assembly in Williamsburg, Va., said he would support American foreign policy under the new president and pledged "to answer fully his questions and to cooperate to the fullest extent to bring about a smooth transition."

Russians increase aid to guerrillas

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is increasing military aid to Rhodesian guerrillas even while white and black African leaders in Geneva are trying to negotiate a peaceful solution, according to U.S. intelligence reports.

Intelligence sources say a Russian ship unloaded 18 heavily-gunned armored vehicles and ammunition in Tanzania in recent days. Tanzania has served as a relay point for Soviet arms bound for the black Rhodesian guerrillas, the sources say.

This report followed another intelligence dispatch last week saying that a Tanzanian ship had delivered Russian 122mm multiple rocket launchers and armored vehicles to Mozambique, a staging area for guerrilla attacks into white-ruled Rhodesia.

U.S. intelligence sources said they have been informed that about 5,000 Rhodesian guerrillas will be moved gradually from Mozambique to camps in Tanzania for training.

Meanwhile, the Geneva talks were reported to have hit a snag Tuesday as four black nationalist factions split over whether to put aside the unsettled issue of setting a deadline for black majority rule in the rebel British colony.

Russian military advisers have been reported in Mozambique at least since last spring and within the past few weeks U.S. intelligence reports have told of Mozambique military officers leaving for long-term training in Russia.

Soviet support for the guerrillas drew the attention of U.S. intelligence officials after the successful effort by pro-Marxist forces to gain control of Angola early this year.

Intelligence specialists say between 10,000 and 12,000 Cuban troops and at least 2,500 Cuban civilians still are in Angola six months after Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro promised to reduce his forces there.

Repeated press reports from Havana during the summer described the return of Cuban troops from Africa, but U.S. officials have said Cuban combat veterans were replaced by others flown to Angola.

Federal court jury hears bomb story

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court jury was told Tuesday about the discovery last year of a bomb at Greater Buffalo International Airport in an unclaimed suitcase taken off an Allegheny Airlines flight from Columbus.

Donald S. Fellows, an Erie County, N.Y., sheriff's bomb technician, described how he dismantled the device after it was discovered in a small, green suitcase by a baggage clerk.

Fellows testified during the second day of the trial of Ernest Arthur Skidmore, 37, who is charged with conspiracy to place two bombs aboard Allegheny flight 456 on Nov. 4, 1975.

Fellows showed the jury how he and another man removed the contents in a field just outside of Erie County.

He said the suitcase contained a beer bottle which appeared to be filled with black powder and was wired to a clock and a battery. It also contained four beer bottles filled with what appeared to be gasoline and a taped, plastic cylinder filled with black powder and 19 rifle cartridges, he said.

A second suitcase shipped with the first was intentionally exploded by the bomb technicians, he said.

In opening statements Monday, Asst. U.S. Atty. Daniel Brown told the jury he would prove that Skidmore was involved in a scheme with his half brother, Hubert Patrick Irwin, 52, to collect $100,000 in insurance.

Brown said the evidence would prove

Freddie Prinze held on charge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Freddie Prinze, star of the "Chico and the Man" television series, has been charged with driving under the influence of drugs.

Prinze, 22, was arrested Nov. 5 by a highway patrol officer who said he observed the actor driving erratically on the San Diego Freeway.

Officer Richard Ripley said he found a two-ounce prescription bottle which contained a small quantity of methaqualone, a tranquilizer, in Prinze's shirt pocket.

Prinze was charged Tuesday.

Stocks take downturn

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed lower today, set back by the collapse of a broad advance late in Tuesday's session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks lost nearly 2 points in the early going, and declines took a 5-4 lead over advances among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The market began stumbling Tuesday after it was hit with the one-two punch of news affecting two major blue chips— American Telephone and Du Pont.

A judge gave the Justice Department the go-ahead to pursue an antitrust case against AT&T. And Du Pont estimated substantially lower fourth quarter earnings.

Telephone shares traded today at 60 1/2, after a 1 1/2-point drop Tuesday.

Du Pont was down 1/2 at 125 after losing 7 1/2 in Tuesday's trading.

With those two stocks weighing it down, the Dow gave up an early 8-point gain Tuesday to finish with a .08 loss at 935.34.

But gainers held on to outpace losers by about an 8-5 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index added .10 to 53.52.

Big Board volume reached 21.02 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .16 at 98.23.

Metrics: Old stuff, really

There still appears to be a widespread impression in this country that the metric system of weights and measures is something new-fangled, to be viewed with skepticism and perhaps even some suspicion. Many seem to think that changing over to metrics, as we're now doing, is rather an avant garde move.

The fact is that shifting to the metric system has been intermittently proposed almost since the nation was established. Washington noted the importance of a uniform system of weights and measures in his first message to Congress. As a result Thomas Jefferson, then secretary of state, studied the matter and made some recommendations to Congress.

One of his two proposals, Ronald Edward Zupko writes in the magazine Intellect, was based on moves in France toward devising a better system. It was the French who, a few years later, determined the meter's length and adopted the metric system. Since then almost every country in the civilized world has successively followed suit.

In the United States, Congress rejected Jefferson's plan and later refused to adopt a system compatible with that of France. The question kept coming up at intervals, though - in 1817, in 1863, in 1902. In 1866 Congress went so far as to make use of metrics lawful, but not mandatory. The subject was debated off and on over the next century.

There was a new upsurge of interest in the 1960s, and in 1968 the Metric Study Bill became law; in essence it provided for a feasibility study, including a cost evaluation. The basic conclusion of the study was: Go ahead, but make the transition as easy as possible over the projected 10-year period.

Last December two bills setting up mechanisms for early stages of the changeover became law. So we are on our way toward the metric system - but only after close to 200 years of indecision.

A WORD EDGEWISE By John P. Roche

Kissinger's African charade

Senior U.S. officials familiar with the thinking of Chairman Kissinger indicate his deep disappointment in the way the British have bungled the Geneva negotiations on Rhodesia. As I noted here over a month ago,

Kissinger's great safari to southern Africa was a charade from start to finish. But, in his characteristically charitable fashion, he is now dumping the detritus on the British doorstep. Predictably the sleepwalkers, the journalists who were on the African shuttle, now have a vested interest in the Chairman's cover story - it covers them too.

To recapitulate the bidding, in early October the official word was that Kissinger had worked out a deal between the Ian Smith regime in Rhodesia and the five "front-line" African presidents for a peaceful transition to black majority rule. Allegedly this scenario encompassed a two-year period of transition in which the Rhodesian whites would retain control over the security forces and a Council of State, designed to work out details. Kissinger told Smith that the five black presidents had approved this; Smith took his word and publicly announced acceptance.

Kissinger, who is no mean hand at passing the black spot, promptly designated this the "Smith Plan," called for a conference, and took off for Washington in a blaze of glory. The press on his plane seemed convinced the aircraft was superfluous: The Chairman could have walked home.

Meanwhile, back in their kraals the five African presidents were breathing fire and telling all and sundry that they had not accepted the "Smith Plan." Indeed, President Kenneth Kuanda of Zambia - one of the most responsible African statesmen - went public with the late Mao's notable contribution to Marxist theory: "Power comes from the barrel of a gun."

Once Kissinger had solved the impasse, the details could be worked out at the Geneva Conference with the extremely reluctant British stuck with the chairmanship. The logic behind this was that, since Britain had never accepted Rhodesia's 1965 Unilateral Declaration of Independence, the Labor government was in loco parentis to the white settler regime. The United States might send an observer, but not directly participate. Prime Minister James Callaghan, who presumably listened to the same British news analyses I did, instantly spotted the Geneva Conference as a bad trip and tried to downgrade it by sending Ivor Richards, Her Majesty's U.N. Ambassador, to chair the sessions instead of Foreign Secretary Anthony Crosland.

Predictably, the representatives of the various Rhodesian black nationalist groups rejected the Smith (alias Kissinger) Plan. For this they had two motives; one historical, one political. Historically it was simply untrue to say the five front-line presidents, and their clients among the divided Rhodesian blacks, had accepted the proposition. Politically, no group could permit itself to be "Uncle Tommed" by more radical spokesmen. For example, Robert G. Mugabe, spokesman of the guerrillas operating out of Mozambique was wandering around Geneva in camouflage battledress.

On the other side of the hill, Ian Smith had announced at the time he accepted the then "Kissinger Plan" that a precondition for any negotiations was the total cessation of guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia. The nationalists have completely ignored this understandable position: They are operating the familiar Communist technique, "Talk, Talk, Fight, Fight." And getting loaded up with highly sophisticated Soviet and Chinese hardware.

The result has been a chaotic deadlock, Smith and Mugabe have gone home, the other nationalists are engaging in competitive harangues, and all hands are tying the can on the hapless British lion. If only, one line goes, Callaghan had honored the conference with Tony Crosland instead of a boob like Richards, the competing sides would have gotten down to serious business.

Others, notably blacks, say Britain should finally use force on the rebels and bring them to terms - totally overlooking the military fact that Britain today hardly has the lift to put down a revolt in Bermuda. And in Washington, Kissinger is immersed in truly vital negotiations - for the publication of his memoirs.

Man, 86, plans to build plane

KINGSFORD, Mich. (AP) - At 86, Charles Heiserman is building an airplane - his first in 20 years. When's he done, he hopes to fly it.

His latest creation, he said, is a "low-wing tail-dragger, two-passenger, with side-by-side seats and a 100-horsepower motor." He began construction last winter and hopes to finish it late next year.

Ohio Perspective

Ohioans go after Washington jobs

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - President-elect Jimmy Carter has reason to look with fondness upon Ohio, and many believe it will be shown in upcoming presidential appointments.

Ohio's Democratic chairman, Paul Tipps of Dayton, has passed along several names to Carter transition people in Atlanta, but declines to reveal them.

Tipps, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to National Democratic Chairman Robert Strauss, stopped short of predicting Ohio will get a cabinet post. He said it is a possibility, however.

U.S. Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, only two years into his first term and enjoying it, apparently doesn't want to leave the Senate. An aide, Steve Avakian, said the senator probably wouldn't be interested, even in a cabinet position.

Glenn, like others who campaigned for the former Georgia governor, is credited in part for delivering the state's big bloc of 25 electoral votes, narrow as the margin was (less than 5,000 votes in the unofficial count).

Carter also recalls clearly that Ohio's votes put him over the top on the first ballot when he won his party's presidential nomination in New York City last July. He mentioned it often in the campaign.

Numerous names have been mentioned in the guessing game now under way about presidential appointments. Among them is former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, who helped write the national Democratic platform to Carter's liking. Gilligan said he would consider a job in the Carter administration but has not been asked.

Ohio's top woman officeholder, State Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahey, is a prospect, along with Fran Ryan, Columbus councilwoman and personal friend of the president-elect who narrowly lost a bid for Congress this month.

Ted Celeste, brother of Lt. Gov. Richard F. Celeste and sparkplug for Carter's primary election victory in Ohio, is seen by many as an almost certain job recipient.

Wilmington College in the Ohio city of the same name was opened by Quakers in 1872.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

His self-control is on his mind

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the woman who kicked her 24-year-old brother-in-law out of the house because she didn't want to leave him alone in the house with the 13-year-old sister prompts this letter.

When our children were small many years ago, my husband and I had sitters occasionally, and no matter what time we came home my husband made ME drive the sitter home while he stayed with the kids. He always said, "No young punk with hot pants will ever have the chance to say that I made a pass at her!"

Abby, maybe I was dumb, but the thought that one of our sitters would unjustly accuse my husband of such a thing never even entered my mind. Nevertheless, he refused to drive a sitter home. But the fact that I, his wife, was driving alone after midnight didn't seem to bother him.

How do you figure it?

STILL ANGRY

DEAR STILL: I can't say what was in the minds of those sitters, but it's obvious what was on your husband's mind.

DEAR ABBY: I see in your column that readers are submitting names for couples who are shacking up together. Well, you can quit searching. I have the perfect name. "Newlybeds."

JACK DENTON

DEAR JACK: "Friends" is still my choice, unless the Quakers object to being confused with those who are feeling their oats.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, Nell, who lives 200 miles from here, was divorced last year. She has a 4-year-old son, Terry, whom I love very much. Nell used to call me on the phone and tell me (not ask me) to meet Terry at the bus and keep him for the weekend. Naturally I always did.

Last week when Nell called to tell me to meet Terry at the bus, I told her I couldn't do it as I had plans to go away for the weekend myself. I could tell she was irritated.

Well, yesterday she sent me a telegram telling me to meet Terry at the bus again! I tried phoning her to inform her that I was going away again, but I couldn't reach her. Now I'm stuck.

How can I get out of being a weekend sitter for my grandchild when it's not convenient? With her sending telegrams and not answering her phone, I'm over a barrel.

BOILING IN LA JOLLA

DEAR BOILING: Tell your daughter that she is NOT to send any more telegrams instructing you to meet her child at the bus. And furthermore, she should phone you and give you a fighting chance, or she'll lose her free sitting service permanently.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, La., Calif 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Bicentennial footnote: The British attacked Fort Lee in New Jersey one day after capturing the New York post, Fort Washington, on the other side of the Hudson River.

Gen. St. Clair's defeat by the Indians on Sept. 17, 1791, shocked Gen. Washington when the defeat was described as "a slaughter as complete as that which hit Braddock nearly 40 years before." St. Clair lost 900 soldiers. It's immediate effect was to stop migration into the Ohio Valley, and it spurred more Indian raids.—AP

Give a gift for Gift Shop at Chillicothe VA Hospital

So that veterans hospitalized at the Chillicothe Veteran's Administration Hospital will have gifts to mail home to their families, the annual Christmas Gift Shop will be held Dec. 1 and 2. This volunteer sponsored project was begun soon after the end of World War II but its need is as great today, for there are veterans in the hospital who range in service from the Spanish American War to the Vietnam conflict.

The list below offers suggestions to assist anyone in selecting articles appropriate for the veterans to send to close relatives, such as wives, parents or children. Items must be new. All gifts must be mailed to their families, so items bulky or breakable should be avoided. Articles should also be in boxes, but not gift wrapped.

Suggestions for men's gifts are: stretch or regular belts, lighters, ties, stretch socks, handkerchiefs, T-shirts, pipes and tobacco pouches, scarves, pen and pencil sets, key cases, tie clips and tie tacks, boxed stationery, suspenders, cigarette cases and flashlights.

For the ladies costume jewelry sets, boxed, pearls, single strand, bracelets, stretch gloves, boxed handkerchiefs, purses, billfolds, boxed or tinned candy, pen and pencil sets, lighters, cosmetics, aprons, boxed stationery and key cases.

For teenagers and small children guns and gun sets (toy), model cars and planes to assemble, dolls, charm bracelets, easy paint by number sets, sweat shirts with university emblems, T-shirts, manicure sets, stretch gloves, stretch socks, clutch purses, records, belts, flashlights and billfolds.

Household suggestions are pillow cases, household linens, placemats, coasters, pot holders or mitts, kitchen accessories, towel sets, luncheon sets, salt and pepper sets, tablecloths and ash trays.

All gifts must be brought to Miss Helen Slavens at the Red Cross Office, 426 S. Fayette St., or call for pickup at 335-3101 by Monday, Nov. 22.

'Gloria' musicians announced

On Sunday November 21, at 3 p.m., in the Grace United Methodist Church, the Cecilians, the Fayette County Choral Society and the Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of W. Warren Parker, with accompanist Mrs. Wayne Spengler, will present a Christmas oratorio new to Washington C.H. music lovers. The "Gloria", by Antonio Vivaldi (1678-1741), which is sometimes called "Gloria in excelsis Deo" is a traditional part of the communion service in many churches. The Vivaldi setting is sung in Latin, but the English words, beginning "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will towards men," are very familiar and appear in many church hymnals.

The song has been termed the "Doxologia Magna", being an amplification of the song of the angels announcing the birth of Christ. Participating musicians are impressed with the joyousness of Vivaldi's music, its great variety of form, and its expressiveness ranging from jubilation to exquisite serenity.

Mrs. Michael Campbell, Miss Anita Pruitt and Mrs. Gene Hughes are soloists for the Gloria performance.

Orchestra members include, Mrs. Frances Core, Mrs. Charles Sheridan, Mrs. David Fabb and Miss Linda Roe, from Chillicothe, all of whom play the violin.

Mrs. John P. Case, and George Unverahrt, from Hillsboro, will be playing the viola, and Mrs. Donald Schwaigert and Mrs. Jack Brennan will be playing the Cello.

Mrs. Sidney Terhune will play the oboe for the concert and the harpsichord will be played by Mrs. Spengler.

The program will begin with a group of seasonal songs by Gustav Holst, Ralph Vaughan-Williams and Martin Shaw, three leaders in England's 20th century choral renaissance, a movement which produced music of excellence unequalled in that country since 1695, when three centuries of outstanding development ended with the death of Henry Purcell.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — NBC tonight is airing "The Disappearance of Aimee," a dramatization of the controversial disappearance and return in 1926 of Aimee Semple McPherson, the flamboyant evangelist.

It stars two fine actresses, Faye Dunaway as Aimee and Bette Davis as her mother, Minnie Kennedy. This should make for a rousing show, no? No. The program is akin to a long sermon on a hot Sunday.

For those too young to recall the case, Sister Aimee contended she was kidnapped while swimming at Ocean Beach Park, Calif., and held for ransom for more than a month in the early summer of 1926.

Los Angeles authorities contended she was off having an illegal fling with Fred Ormiston, a young radio engineer who used to work for her, and had lied in an attempt to cover it all up.

Tonight's dramatization of both contentions — each argued in a preliminary court hearing where authorities tried to bring her to trial — revolves around that hearing, with flashbacks used to depict the claims of each side.

The show starts with Aimee at her temple here shortly after her return. She speaks of her coming court appearance with her mother in dramatic terms, calling it another sign of "the age-old fight between the children of light and the people of darkness."

Her words are so extravagantly ripe, her mother's reaction to them so apparently skeptical, you may think this is a sardonic, tongue-in-cheek yarn about how the devil in the form of the district attorney tried to stop the Lord's work among the multitudes.

Wrong. It turns into an earnest, plodding recapitulation, both in testimony and ensuing flashbacks, of her claims of innocence and efforts of the D.A. (James Sloyan) to show she is fibbing.

One scene, in which Aimee explains from a hospital bed in Arizona how she was kidnapped, tortured and escaped, runs so long many citizens in tonight's audience may be hospitalized of acute boredom.

In the finale, engineer Ormiston (William Jordan) makes a dramatic courtroom appearance on behalf of Sister Aimee.

If you can read the fine print that comes with the closing credits, you may notice the print says his testimony actually came in an affidavit to the D.A., rather than in court.

Okay, a faint cheer for fineprint honesty. No cheer for the show. It avoids a conclusion about Aimee's guilt or innocence, which is no real sin. But it makes a potentially lively story about a lively lady preacher come out dull. And that, brethren, is a sin.

Rob Reider highlights program

DEAF marks 2nd anniversary

A special program honoring the second anniversary of the founding of the Deaf Educational Assistance Facilities (DEAF) in Fayette County was held Saturday night.

Rob Reider, WLW television personality of the Bob Braun Show, highlighted the celebration, held in the Miami Trace High School auditorium, by singing three musical selections.

Various local residents associated with DEAF spoke about the increasing job positions in which the deaf are becoming involved.

According to Darrell DeBolt, assistant director of the Agricola

Chemical Co. research laboratory, Jamison Road, stated that thousands of laboratories throughout the nation have discovered the high capabilities of deaf employees.

Janet Duvall, founder and president of DEAF, spoke about the upcoming goals and future plans of the organization. She noted that the symbol of DEAF, an old fashioned clock key, is appropriate as an illustration of the program's attempts to open the social and economic areas currently closed to the deaf.

William K. Rodgers, first vice-president of DEAF, presented an award of appreciation to Mike Flynn, editor of the Record-Herald, for the newspaper's support of the organization.

The program was closed following Mrs. Edith Jones' interpretation of the Lord's Prayer in deaf sign language. Mrs. Jones is a member of the Community Services for the deaf and hard of hearing, in Cincinnati.

Lawsuit hits Kroehler Co.

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A $4 million class action lawsuit has been filed against the Kroehler Manufacturing Co. alleging breach of promise in the company's decision not to rebuild a factory destroyed in Xenia's 1974 tornado.

The suit, filed in Greene County Common Pleas Court, is a class action filed on behalf of employees who say they have failed to find other work, but turned down other job offers while Kroehler was promising to rebuild the plant.

The Xenia tornado struck in April 1974, destroying almost half the city, including the furniture factory. Officials of the company, headquartered at Naperville, Ill., said the factory would be rebuilt and employees would be put back to work.

The company also said it would be the first to construct facilities at the new Xenia Industrial Park, the suit alleged, and repeated those promises until August 1975.

However, on Aug. 16, 1975, the company said it would not rebuild. It cited economic reasons. Kroehler employees were offered jobs in other company factories around the country.

The former employees said they incurred debts and made investments based on Kroehler's promise, and now have suffered substantial losses because of the decision.

They also charge the company's promises were made "maliciously with knowledge they were false and with wanton disregard" for the welfare of the employees.

A report from State Rep. Bob McEwen

Committee hearings held on bills

The Ohio legislature was recessed until this last week, but committee hearings have been held on four administration-backed economic development bills.

All four bills (Senate Bill 564, House Bills 1574, 1575, and 1576) would have given municipal authorities the power to negotiate reduced property taxes to attract business development in economically depressed areas.

Senate Bill No. 564 is presently in a subcommittee of the Senate Ways and Means Committee. The four House bills are in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Two other items to come up in the November 9 session were bingo (House Bill No. 1547) and pay raises for county officials (House Bill No. 784).

House Bill No. 1547 opens up legal sponsorship of bingo games to such charities as senior citizens social groups, volunteer rescue and firefighters units, civic associations, humane societies, medical prevention and treatment organizations, and youth athletic boosters. It also mandates tighter accounting for the use of bingo proceeds.

House Bill No. 784 substantially raises salaries for most elected county officials. It also prohibits "flower funds," where county employees are compelled to rebate a certain percentage of their salary to a political campaign chest.

Both bills stalled in the waning hours before the Ohio General Assembly recessed in mid-September.

State tax collections for the first quarter of the 1976-1977 fiscal year increased 7.7 per cent over the same period last year from $738.6 million to $795.5 million. However, first quarter general revenue fund receipts, excluding federal welfare reimbursements, are $47.2 million below legislative estimates and $21.7 million below revised executive estimates.

At the same time general revenue fund expenditures for the quarter were 25.9 per cent ahead of last year, up to $995 million from $790.6 million.

Increased spending is mainly due to education and welfare. Support for primary and secondary education rose from $170 million in the first quarter last year to $261.6 million this year, a 53.6 per cent increase. Welfare costs were up 42.9 per cent from $268 million to $382.9 million.

Due to an uneven tax collection timetable, November - March are often lean months for the state. This year they will be exceptionally bad. Mounting operating deficits plus too much spending point to a bleak financial picture for Ohio next year.

The high pressure system which has been the dominating feature in Ohio's weather the past several days was to move southward today and tonight as a low pressure center moved east through southern Canada.

As this happens, skies will remain mostly clear over Ohio with increasing west to southwest winds.

Festival termed 'success'

The sound of marching feet and a variety of musical numbers filled the air at Miami Trace High School Saturday.

The first annual Miami Trace Invitational Marching Band Festival was termed a "huge success" by band director Aaron Spaulding and event chairman Andy Anderson as a number of high school bands performed on the football field.

The judges awarded a "superior rating" to the Roger Bacon High School marching band from Cincinnati. The Roger Bacon field commander also took top honors in that competition.

The drill team from Fairborn-Baker High School and the majorettes from Bellbrook High School were winners in their respective categories.

Spaulding was pleased with the festival and the cooperation shown by the community, but he stated he had hoped more bands would receive a "one" or "superior" rating.

Youth Activities

BROWNIE TROOP 877

Lavon Stevens conducted the Brownie meetings for Brownie Troop 877 held in Jasper School, Milledgeville. The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and the Brownie Promise were repeated for the opening, then the Brownie gold bank was given to each girl to collect the weekly dues.

After refreshments were served, the girls started making craft in sections. They are making a desk set which is a clown head can and pencil holder, which will be completed at the next meeting.

The meeting was closed with the Brownie B's. We have had 10 meetings this year, with all girls present.

Michigan picked over Buckeyes

Forecaster chooses winners

NEW YORK (AP) — How important are the remaining games in the college football season?

"Well," says UCLA's Terry Donahue, "my wife served me Mylanta for breakfast and I think I'll have Gelusil for dinner."

Let us ring in a couple of guest selectors and hear how they pick the UCLA-Southern Cal Pac-8 Rose Bowl showdown.

Washington's Don James: "A tossup. I think if they played 10 times it would come out 5-5. They're that close."

Oregon State's Craig Fertig: "The team that wins will be decided by the quarterback who gets the hot hand. I think USC is bigger and stronger on defense but UCLA is faster. I think they are even on offense."

So for the Rose Bowl...Southern Cal 28-21.

Last week's score was 50 right — including Kentucky's upset of Florida — and 19 wrong for a .724 percentage. On the season, it is 481-196-11 — .710.

Michigan at Ohio State: "I always feel good going to Ohio State; we have never played badly against them," says Michigan's Bo Schembechler...Michigan 20-10.

Houston at Texas Tech: A funny thing happened to last year's Southwest Conference tri-champs. First Texas A&M foundered, then Texas, then Arkansas. And now unbeaten Texas Tech...Houston 31-24.

Iowa State at Oklahoma State: What are these two losers doing battling for a possible Orange Bowl berth? Playing good football, that's what. If Iowa State wins, they have got to hope Nebraska beats Oklahoma. The only way

Oklahoma State can go — possibly — is for Kansas State to upset Colorado — unlikely — while Nebraska and Oklahoma battle to a tie. Got it? We got...Oklahoma State 34-24.

Colorado at Kansas State: Colorado is ranked 15th with a 7-3 record, including victories over Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Iowa State. Kansas State has dropped nine in a row after beating Brigham Young in its opener. This has been such a crazy conference, let's try the Upset Special of the Week...Kansas State 24-20.

Miami, Fla. at Notre Dame: Miami's patsy schedule has sent the Hurricanes against the likes of Colorado, Nebraska, Pitt and Penn State, with "only" Notre Dame, Florida and Houston left...Notre Dame 28-14.

Kansas at Missouri: Missouri has beaten four of the top 15 teams in this week's ratings, but the Tigers are no better than Sixth in the Big Eight...Missouri 27-17.

Colgate at Rutgers: The Scarlet Knights match their basketball team and complete a perfect regular season...Rutgers 35-6.

Kentucky at Tennessee: If Tennessee should somehow manage a bowl bid, it would automatically extend Bill Battle's contract by a year, and wouldn't that come as a blow to his unwarranted critics? Tennessee 24-14.

Texas at Baylor: How the mighty have fallen...Baylor 28-21.

Wyoming at Air Force: Now that the Cowpokes have clinched a berth in the Fiesta Bowl, why not a letdown? Second Upset Special...Air Force 24-21.

Pro basketball action proves hot and heavy

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Rick Barry has got to learn to concentrate at the free throw line.

"I had hoped to make 80 or 90 in a row, but I didn't concentrate — and then I missed," said Barry, who finally saw one of his underhand tosses from the free throw line roll off the rim Tuesday night — but not before he set a National Basketball Association record of 60 in a row.

Barry's miss late in the fourth period came after he made his first eight tries of the game and erased the NBA record of 58 set last season by Houston's Calvin Murphy.

In other NBA games, the New Orleans Jazz nipped the Portland Trail Blazers 100-98, the New York Knicks edged the Atlanta Hawks 100-97, the San Antonio Spurs shaded the Buffalo Braves 114-112 and the Kansas City Kings beat the Milwaukee Bucks 100-91.

Slick Watts led Seattle with 25 points. Fred Brown had 16 points for the Sonics, including 10 in the final quarter. Barry broke Murphy's record with his seventh free throw of the game, then added another before finally missing. He did, however, make his final toss of the game, finishing 9-for-10 — and with a streak of one.

Jazz 100, Blazers 98

"This is the year for the game to be physical," observed New Orleans Coach Butch van Breda Kolf, whose Jazz nipped Portland in a game marred by 66 personal fouls — 33 against each team — and three technicals.

Physical is one thing, but the game got out of hand in the second period when Pete Maravich, New Orleans' high-scoring star, squared off against Portland's scrappy Dave Twardzik.

When the brawl ended, Maravich was hit with a technical foul but permitted to remain in the game, which did not sit well with Portland Coach Jack Ramsay.

The Jazz, leading 45-40 at the time of the fight, fell behind 54-51 at the half but rallied behind Maravich's 15 third-quarter points. Maravich also led all rebounders with 15.

Knicks 100, Jazz 97

Bill Bradley's jumper with 1:28 to play put the Knicks ahead, then they clinched it with six free throws in the final nine seconds — four by Earl Monroe and two by Walt Frazier. Atlanta's Tom Henderson scored 27 points, while Frazier led the Knicks with 26.

It was Atlanta's 26th consecutive loss on the road.

Spurs 114, Braves 112

Larry Kenon, who topped the Spurs with 25 points, sank two free throws with two seconds left to beat Buffalo and snap the Braves' five-game winning streak. Bob McAdoo topped Buffalo with 27 points.

Kings 100, Bucks 91

Ron Boone scored 27 points for Kansas City and Scott Wedman added 19, including three baskets early in the fourth quarter that broke open the game. Center Elmore Smith and rookie forward Alex English each scored 21 for the Bucks.

New Lexington pilot happy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jim Rockwell is pleasantly surprised his state Class AA champion New Lexington football team finally has made the Ohio high school playoffs.

"It proves a point," said the man of 26 coaching campaigns at Ironton, Wellston and New Lexington, "that you can still be committed to a 10-team league and make the playoffs."

"In four years," he said, "we've gone

9-1, 10-0, 9-1 and 10-0 and only made it one time. You still have to be damn lucky and everything has to go right."

Rockwell believes the playoffs are a good thing, with some refinements.

"Instead of regionals, with some 65 teams," he said, "there should be two large leagues that would cut those figures in half. The winners of the two leagues would meet for the regional championships, state quarterfinals in effect," said the man who led the Perry County Panthers to the 1970 mythical state championship.

Harold Meyer, commissioner of the governing Ohio High School Athletic Association, says school principals voted down the idea of regional championships in a questionnaire about a year ago.

"We suggested the season be moved up to the Friday before Labor Day," said Meyer, retiring next summer as commissioner. "That would accommodate possible regional championships."

Meyer hinted such a playoff structure may become a reality for football, if for no other reason than finances.

"Just look at the natural rivalries, the matchups that we would have had this year," he said.

In Class AAA, the regional title games would have paired Lakewood St. Edward vs. Parma Valley Forge, Gahanna vs. Columbus Northland, Youngstown Mooney vs. Akron North and Cincinnati Moeller vs. Centerville.

In Class AA, the regional matches would send Elyria Catholic vs. Chagrin Falls or Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary, Huron vs. Columbus Watterson, New Lexington vs. Minerva and Brookville vs. Cincinnati Reading.

In Class A, it would have been Ashtabula St. John vs. Mogadore, Fostoria St. Wendelin vs. Tiffin Calvert, Newark Catholic vs. Woodfield and West Jefferson vs. Versailles.

Carty, 36, led Cleveland hitters with a .310 average and added 13 homers and 83 runs batted in last season. He was picked by the Blue Jays in the first round of the draft and the native of the Dominican Republic was the oldest player picked by either Toronto or Seattle.

Carty's .308 lifetime batting average in 13 major leagues seasons, including stints with the Milwaukee Braves, Atlanta Braves, Texas Rangers, Oakland Athletics, Chicago White Sox and Indians, is near the top among active players.

Rico Carty named 'Man Of The Year'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rico Carty, lost to Toronto in the recent expansion draft, has been named the Cleveland Indians' "Man of the Year" for 1976 by the Cleveland chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

Akron soccer best

CLEVELAND (AP) — The University of Akron's soccer team has been voted the best collegiate team in the state for the second straight year. The Zips, 8-4 overall and 5-0 in Ohio competition, drew all 19 first place votes from the board of coaches.

Anthony Davis buys back Canadian grid contract

TORONTO (AP) — The Canadian Football League career of running back Anthony Davis has come to an unceremonious end.

Davis, the heralded college superstar who arrived in Canada six months ago with a five-year, $1-million contract, bought the contract back from the Toronto Argonauts Monday and said he hoped to pursue a career in the National Football League.

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers, coached by John McKay, hold his NFL rights. McKay coached Davis when the running back starred at the University of Southern California.

Argos owner Bill Hodgson, who had hoped the 24-year-old Davis would be the bright, new superstar the Toronto team needed to win the Grey Cup, made the announcement of Davis' departure just one week after the Argos lost their final game of the regular season to Hamilton and finished out of the playoffs.

There also were reports of a rift between Davis and Argos Coach Russ Jackson. Davis, injured early in the season, complained that the Argos were not using him enough, a fact brought out by his season statistics.

"A.D. is a great athlete," said Dick Shatto, the Argos managing director. "But if you have someone in your organization who is not completely happy, then it's best for both parties that he have the opportunity to try his skills elsewhere."

Foster sees close MVP race

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Foster, Cincinnati's slugging outfielder who led the major leagues with 121 runs batted in, said Monday that he expects a "real close" race with teammate Joe Morgan in the National League's Most Valuable Player balloting.

However, Foster said he feels baseball writers "are leaning toward Morgan."

Foster made the remarks during a baseball talk show on WLW Radio by telephone from his home in Hawthorne, Calif.

Foster said he is "on pins and needles" waiting for the Nov. 24 announcement.

Foster was a leading candidate for the award until he fell into a 4 for 44 slump late in the season. He finished with a .307 batting average, 29 homers and 121 runs batted in.

Morgan, who won the MVP title last year, had career highs with 27 homers and 112 RBI, hit .320 and stole 60 bases. Foster recently got the endorsement of Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey, who said the slugging left fielder was responsible for the Reds' comeback lead.

"I hope the writers listen to what he said," Foster remarked.

Foster said he hopes the free agent bidding wars don't force baseball to "price the game out of reach for the fan."

Helmick ties WCC record

Glen Helmick, Sr., 545 Waverly Drive, equalled the course record for the front nine at the Washington Country Club Wednesday.

Helmick shot a 32 on the first half of the course to match a record held by several people. He fired a 37 on the back nine for a 69 score for 18 holes.

Helmick, who was playing with his son, recently won the "Old Pal" and husband-wife tournaments at the country club.

Terry Miller top back

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Terry Miller, who left the Colorado Rockies to do his thing on the midwestern plains, literally destroyed the Oklahoma State record books last week with a five-touchdown, 221-yard performance against Kansas State.

For his efforts in the Cowboys' 45-21 victory, the 6-foot, 195-pound running back was chosen today as The Associated Press' National Back of the Week.

It was the second time Miller won the award this season. Earlier, he was selected after racing for 228 yards in Oklahoma State's 20-19 triumph over Missouri.

Darden back to aid Browns

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Thom Darden missed football last year, but not half as much as the Cleveland Browns' defense missed him.

The 6-foot-2, 193-pound free safety came up with his sixth interception of the season in Sunday's 24-3 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, and his teammates and coaches just breathe a bit easier when he trots out to his position every Sunday.

"Our foremost problem a year ago was Darden's absence," explains Cleveland defensive coordinator Dick Modzelewski. "We allowed 25 touchdown passes, and tried four or five free safeties in his place without success."

"Thom's more or less our captain in the secondary because he commands

so much respect from his teammates," Modzelewski added.

Darden, an All-American at the University of Michigan and now in his fourth year as a pro, missed all of the 1975 season when he suffered a serious knee injury while fielding a punt in a preseason game.

"Last year was no fun for me or anybody else around here," Darden said, reflecting on watching the Browns falter to a 3-11 record. "Now we've got a chance at a playoff spot and I need four more (interceptions) to break the team record."

The club record of nine interceptions by Tommy James has stood since 1950, the Browns' first year in the National Football League.

Northwest District prep grid teams named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dave Pierce, who lifted Mansfield Senior to a 7-3-0 record, has been named The Associated Press' Ohio Northwestern District Class AAA Coach of the Year.

Cliff Belmer of Mansfield Senior and Terry Bates, Fremont Ross' record-shattering runner, were selected the AAA Backs of the Year in all-star voting by an area panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Bates, a 175-pound senior, accounted for 1,628 yards rushing this season, breaking a 20-year-old school record of 1,598 held by Jim Tiller. Belmer, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, rushed for 1,165 yards in his senior season.

Steve Bertz, Napoleon's splendid-blocking 6-2, 200-pound senior tight end, was the AAA area Lineman of the Year.

The Scott boys, Jeff of Port Clinton and Kevin of Ontario, no relation, collected the Class AA Northwestern Player of the Year laurels, joining Tony Munafa of unbeaten, second-ranked Huron, the No. 1 area mentor in the middle division.

Jeff Scott, a 5-9, 170-pound junior safety and running back, accounted for 20 interceptions in the last two seasons and had 1,052 yards and 15 touchdowns this fall. Kevin Scott, a 6-4, 185 senior tight end, caught 32 of his team's 42 receptions this year for 735 yards.

In Class A, Dave Affholder of Fostoria St. Wendelin and Dave Myers of Carey shared the back honors, Bruce Fields of Bluffton was the leading lineman and Gene Peluso of St. Wendelin and Jim Stauffer of Bluffton split the coaching title.

Affholder, a 5-10, 180-pound senior, accounted for 1,158 yards rushing and passing, playing less than half a game against most opponents. He has 2,400 career yards rushing. Myers, a 5-10, 175-pound senior running back, was all-state last season and had 1,000 ground yards in 1975 and more than 4,000 in his career.

Peluso produced a 7-2-1 record and led St. Wendelin into the state semifinals. Stauffer, a used car salesman pressed into emergency coaching service, turned out an 8-2-0 mark in his first season at Bluffton.

Four accidents checked

A Jeffersonville woman was charged with improper passing after her car reportedly collided with a truck pulling a farm wagon along Palmer Road at 8:44 a.m. Tuesday.

Ruby Anders, 34, of Jeffersonville, was eastbound on Palmer Road, attempting to pass a truck driven by Everett P. Taylor, 52, of 5150 Glendon-Arnold Road which was pulling a wagon.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies said Ms. Anders lost control of her car and sideswiped the farm wagon, causing moderate damage to both vehicles. The accident occurred just west of the Jasper-Coil Road, and resulted in Ms. Anders being charged by sheriff's deputies with improper passing.

Washington C.H. police officers reported that a car driven by Hugh O. Robinett, 54, of 822 Washington Ave.,

was southbound on Lewis Street, when it struck another car which had been traveling east on Columbus Avenue, and in the process of turning onto Lewis Street.

The second car was driven by Marilyn L. Knisley, 39, of 2979 Snow Hill Road, and no damage was reported in the 5:22 p.m. Tuesday accident. Robinett was charged by police officers with failing to yield to an oncoming vehicle.

Eddie A. Cottrell, 17, of 821 John St., told police officers that as he was driving his car from a parking space on the South Side Church of Christ parking lot, S. Fayette Street, it struck a parked car belonging to Mary L. Dewese, 1020 N. North St., at 7:49 a.m. Tuesday. No damage was reported.

Backing north from a private drive on Leesburg Avenue, near McKinley

St., a car driven by Virginia Evans, 31, of 1011 Leesburg Ave., collided with a car driven by Patricia J. Ford, 28, of 2 Sunny Drive, which had been eastbound on Leesburg Avenue at 4:58 p.m. Monday.

No damage was reported by police officers.

Exchange student shares experiences in Belgium

A Washington Senior High School student shared her recent experiences as an American Field Service foreign exchange student in Belgium with members of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club Tuesday.

Lynne Fichner, a senior at Washington Senior High School, spent 10 weeks in Belgium as a part of the American Field Service program. She was one of two local students spending the summer abroad. The other was Ed DeWees who visited Brazil.

Miss Fichner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Fichner, 321 N. North St., resided in Benerlo, a Belgian mining town with a population of 6,000.

Her 44-year-old Belgian "father" was a retired miner. He worked in the mines for 20 years and retired at age 40.

She related several interesting facts to the club about Belgian lifestyles. She said as a custom Belgians eat about six meals per day and many teenagers wear dentures having lost their teeth at an early age because of too many sweets in their diets.

Catholicism is the predominate faith and the native language is Flemish.

Before returning home, Miss Fichner visited Holland, Luxemborg and France.

The meeting was conducted by club president Dr. George Pommert and the program was arranged by Richard Whiteside.

Visiting Rotarians were Darrell French, of Wilmington, and William Stout, William Richards and David Frazier, all of Circleville. George Puchovich was a guest with Dr. Leroy Davis. Dan Gifford of Miami Trace High School was a student guest.

CB radio theft probed

An alleged citizens band radio theft and a malicious mischief report were investigated Tuesday by Fayette County sheriff's deputies.

Clyde Cramer, 417 Staunton-Jasper Road, told sheriff's deputies that his citizens band radio, valued at $119.95, was stolen from his car at some undetermined location in Fayette County between Nov. 10 and Saturday.

A house on the Bogus Road, belonging to James A. Kiger, 622 Van Deman St., incurred damage to six of its windows between Saturday and Monday when an unknown caliber of gunshot was fired into each.

Jack Armstrong, 121 W. Temple St., told Washington C.H. police officers that his rear storm door glass was broken by suspects between 7:30 a.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $8.

Theft suspect sentenced

During arraignment proceedings recently in Fayette County Common Pleas Court, a Columbus woman was sentenced to a prison term for the grand theft of items from a local clothing store.

Kelly L. Williams, 22, of Columbus who is, also known as Charlene E. Ivory, had pleaded guilty earlier to a grand theft charge and was sentenced by Judge Evelyn W. Coffman to a prison term at the Marysville Reformatory of from one to five years.

Ms. Williams and another Columbus woman were arrested October 5 by Washington C.H. police officers after they were reported to have stolen a number of leather jackets from three Washington C.H. stores.

Death car instant coffin

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — "You couldn't have lived in that 10 seconds," said police officer Earl Whirls.

The Ross Township patrolman was describing the fiery automobile crash that claimed the lives of four Indiana persons Monday night.

Three men and an 18-year-old woman died when their car slammed into a utility pole, exploding in flames on impact. One person escaped the burning car with minor injuries.

The victims were identified by Butler County authorities as Billie Joe Hall, 26, Hanover; Robert W. Davidson, 21, and William Ray Davidson, 18, both of Crowtherville; and Jeannie Short, 18, Hanover.

James Connelly, 38, of Cincinnati told police the accident occurred when the Indiana car crossed the center line, struck his car and rammed into the pole.

Pollution money sought by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency said today state agencies will ask for $31.6 million in the next biennium to bring 64 facilities into compliance with air and water pollution control regulations.

The Ohio EPA said the requests will come from four state agencies and the Ohio Board of Regents for purchase and installation of pollution control equipment.

Governor's office discloses

State safety agency probe funds misused

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A safety division of the Ohio Industrial Commission has misused funds that were supposed to be spent in the investigation of industrial accidents, according to Gov. James A. Rhodes' office.

"A review of expense vouchers disclosed many unauthorized or questionable expense items which could be classified as abuses," a report prepared by Rhodes' fiscal officer said.

Essentially, the 59-page document deals with instances where safety and hygiene money was used for other Industrial Commission activities, some of them questionable. The commission has been a focal point of controversy regarding its role as an arbiter of workmen's compensation claims.

"Where there are illegal expenditures we'll ask for recovery of the funds," Rhodes said Tuesday. "We want to clean up the state."

The governor said Industrial Commission Chairman William Johnston would ask Atty. Gen. William J. Brown to institute such action and prosecute if appropriate.

The internal audit and review, undertaken by Rex E. Haecker, Rhodes' administrative assistant for fiscal affairs, questions travel expenses, banquets and entertainment expenses during the period from Jan. 1, 1972 to March 31, 1976.

Haecker said nearly $10,000 was spent by safety and hygiene employees and industrial commissioners for trips that "cannot be recognized or construed as an authorized expenditure of Safety and Hygiene funds."

This included $4,130 for the travels of former commissioner Gregory J. Stebbins who was ousted from office by the state Senate last month after being charged by Rhodes with corruption.

A check for $298.25 made out to Stebbins on July 11, 1974 was issued without a voucher to document the purpose of payment, the Haecker report said.

The audit found that $174,618 was spent on banquets and connected expenses such as lodging and travel for guests, and honorariums.

"It has been held repeatedly that banquets and/or dinners are unnecessary for the proper operation of state government," the report said.

In 1975 and 1976, 38 employees were paid gross earnings of more than $201,000 from the safety and hygiene payroll while working on other duties for the Industrial Commission, according to Haecker. The charging of these payroll costs "cannot be approved as being within the statutory objectives or purposes" of the safety fund, he said.

The key problem cited by the report was the failure of the Industrial Commission to establish a safety fund, completely separate from the State Insurance Fund, which is used for workmen's compensation claims. Instead it was maintained as an allocation from the larger fund, based on 4 of 1 per cent of employer's contributions.

An excessive surplus of $8.5 million developed in the safety fund as of last March 31, Haecker said, that "created a condition whereby highly questionable expenditures could be made."

"The percentage of allocations for Safety and Hygiene purposes should be reduced to be in line with yearly requirements," he said.

Johnston said he was in the process of setting up a separate account for the safety fund.

Coffee Break . . .

A NEW three-week course entitled "Christmas Craftmaking," will commence November 23, according to Dale Lynch, interim director of the Washington C.H. Area Community Education program.

The classes, which will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. every Tuesday, will take place in the Washington C.H. Middle School home economics classroom.

The course fee is 50 cents per class, and Lynch said that those interested in taking the course, taught by Hilda Downs, should attend the first class time at 6:30 p.m. November 23.

WSHS parents can find out

Has high school really changed?

By CINDI PEARCE
Record-Herald Staff Writer

Has high school really changed all that much in the past 20 years? For anyone who really wants to know the answer to that question, there is but one way to find out: go back to school.

That opportunity will be afforded to all parents of Washington Senior High School students on Friday during a day-long program called "Operation SWAP" (Switch With A Parent).

Operation SWAP, an event being held for the first time at Washington Senior High School, will provide parents with an opportunity to switch roles with their children for one day. The participating parents will attend classes throughout the day, or for a portion of the day, in the place of their son or daughter.

According to Washington Senior High School Principal Maurice Pfeifer,

Operation SWAP will give parents a chance to compare school as it is today to how it was when they attended. It will also allow them to see what their children do at school.

"During Operation SWAP the parents will get to see a classroom in a relatively normal situation since not all of the students will be removed from the scene," Pfeifer explained.

Pfeifer, as well as other school administrators and teachers, felt that the parents of Washington Senior High School students needed to become more involved in school. "The best way to achieve this is to have the parents come in and participate and observe while school is occurring."

If a student's parents can't participate in the Operation SWAP program, Pfeifer said that the student could arrange for a substitute parent to attend. The only prerequisite is that the substitute parent has been out of school for at least 10 years.

Estimating that one-fourth of the student body's parents will take part in the Operation SWAP program, Pfeifer said, "The parents will go through the regular school schedule, exactly as it is usually done. Nothing special has been planned since the object of Operation SWAP is to let the parents participate in normal, every day school activities."

Pfeifer said that there would be no time for the parents to have individual conferences with the teachers concerning their children, since classes are to be held as usual.

"The situation might be altered a bit in study hall or perhaps in the physical education classes and other activity classes allowing parents and teachers to talk," Pfeifer said.

The Operation SWAP program is being held as a part of the American Education Week observance in the Washington C.H. School District.

Gilmore overdose to delay execution

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gary Gilmore, the killer who wants to die, may have prolonged his life instead by taking sleeping pills in an apparent lovers' suicide pact that left him and his girl friend hospitalized.

Gilmore, 35, who has fought efforts to delay his execution by a firing squad, remained in what officials called "very serious" condition today with a drug overdose complicated by pneumonia.

He was hospitalized Tuesday after taking sleeping pills and writing a suicide note despite what officials called a prison "suicide watch" to guard against such an attempt.

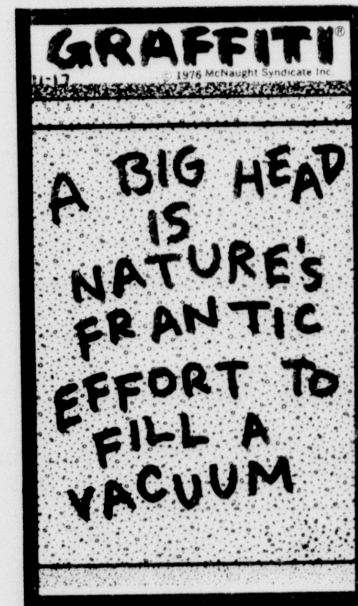

Nicole Barrett, his girl friend, was in critical condition in a coma at a hospital in Provo, 40 miles away from the prison here.

Mrs. Barrett, 20, was found in her apartment on Tuesday morning, with two notes and two empty vials of sleeping pills nearby.

Gilmore's condition forced the Utah Board of Pardons to drop plans to consider his case at its regular hearing today. He was to have pleaded in person for the three-man board to uphold his execution.

Deputy Warden Leon Hatch said the

note in Gilmore's Utah State Prison cell said, "I leave all of my personal belongings to my mother."

Asst. Utah County Atty. Brent Bullock refused to discuss the contents of the two notes found near Mrs. Barrett, except to say that they were "like suicide notes."

A prison spokesman said the pills could have been slipped to him by visitors or other inmates and that he could have concealed them under his tongue during routine searches.

Gilmore, convicted of killing Provo motel clerk Bennie Bushnell last summer, was originally sentenced to die on Monday. But the sentence was deferred by outgoing Gov. Calvin L. Rampton.

Jeff Newman, a friend who discovered Mrs. Barrett in her apartment, said she had told him of a suicide pact she and Gilmore had made, but he said he had not believed her. Newman said Mrs. Barrett told him after visiting Gilmore on Monday that she would not be going to the prison Tuesday.

Local program could answer question

Will there be enough food?

A food policy program is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Thursday at the Fayette County extension service meeting room, 319 S. Fayette St.

The meeting, entitled "Your Food" is a part of a national educational project developed by agricultural scientists and food specialists throughout the United States, according to John Gruber, Fayette County agricultural extension agent and coordinator of the Fayette County Meeting. He pointed out that similar meetings are being held in each of Ohio's 88 counties this year.

According to Gruber, the goal of the programs is to provide information about current food issues so the public can better assess the world situation.

Rising food prices during recent years has created much of the concern about the current food situation. But, many Americans are concerned also about the food supply in under developed countries. A big question which will be discussed in the "Your Food" meeting is, will there be enough for all?

Leading food economists say the future of the world

food supply depends on a delicate balance between supply and demand.

There are many views about the nation's future food supply. Optimistic people believe that new birth control methods will come to the aid of the population problem. Some agricultural scientists feel that food production will increase due to increasing technology.

Pessimists, on the other hand, feel the situation will not improve. Many fear current population growth rates will double the world population by the year 2000.

Other questions to be discussed at Thursday's food policy program will include: How will food be distributed? How dangerous are food additives? How will government regulations effect food quality? Should the U.S. give food to poor nations?, and other questions relating to the control, production, and distribution of our future food supply.

Gruber emphasized that the meeting is open to the public and will be of interest to area consumers, producers, and businessmen.

Loan scandal case winds up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has concluded a legal struggle to recover $9 million from former state officials involved in the six-year-old Statehouse loan scandal.

"That's the ball game," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen C. Fitch after completing oral arguments in the civil case before the Ohio Supreme Court. The seven-member high court will now mull over state and defense arguments before handing down a decision.

Two lower courts have ruled that former State Treasurer John Herbert, his deputy Robert Gardner, and their bonding companies are not personally liable in the matter.

The state is arguing that Herbert exceeded a $50 million limit on investment in commercial notes in 1970 and is therefore personally liable for an $8 million loan to a company that filed for bankruptcy in 1971.

Gardner made the transaction with King Resources, a Denver, Colo., oil drilling firm which owed $1 million in interest on the loan when it folded.

Two other cases are still pending in which the state is attempting to cover its losses, Fitch said.

Bankruptcy proceedings to reorganize King could benefit the state, he said, and the company's former officers, accountants and attorneys are being sued by Ohio in federal court in Denver.

The scandal, with its widening political implications, was credited with seriously damaging Republican fortunes in Ohio and sweeping a number of Democrats into state office, including former Gov. John J. Gilligan, a Republican, lost a 1970 election for attorney general to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, who was 31 at the time.

Herbert's lawyer, Paul Tague, argued in court that the treasurer's office went over the $50 million investment limit for only four weeks in 1970. The loan was not certified as delinquent until 1972, he said, 20 months after Herbert left office.

"Any loss that may have occurred thereafter should not be laid at the doorstep," Tague contended.

Chief Justice C. William O'Neill, however, noted that "the law was clear" when Herbert's office bought the King notes.

Justice Thomas M. Herbert (no relation) questioned John Herbert's personal responsibility since the treasurer was not aware that the limit on investments was exceeded when his assistant, Gardner, bought the notes.

In another development, state Board of Deposit is expected to close out another facet of the case at a meeting next month. The board plans action to erase, technically at least, a nonexistent $2.7 million balance in the state treasury stemming from loan dealings with the Four Seasons Nursing Homes.

Four Seasons, which is no longer in existence, also filed for bankruptcy after receiving a loan from the state in 1970. The nursing home loan is not part of the civil suit against Herbert.

Fanne Foxe takes too many pills

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — Fanne Foxe, who splashed into Washington's Tidal Basin and the national news media in a 1975 incident involving former U.S. Rep. Wilbur Mills, was hospitalized and released after taking an overdose of pills, her press agent said.

John Carmen said Miss Foxe, whose real name is Annabel Battistella, was taken Tuesday afternoon from her Westport home to Norwalk Hospital, where her stomach was pumped.

Carmen said Miss Foxe told him that she had taken 80 tranquilizers. He said he did not know whether she took the pills accidentally.

Miss Foxe is appearing in an off-Broadway play in New York City.

Soviet atom survival plan copied

SEATTLE (AP) — The Boeing Co. says it has tapped the Soviet Union's civil defense program to develop a system to protect its industrial machinery from a thermonuclear attack and has tested the plan by using Soviet defense manuals.

The protection method involves supporting machines and equipment on polyurethane foam and covering them at the first sign of attack with plastic foam, metal chips, balsa wood, dirt or sandbags.

Boeing estimates that all the nation's industrial machinery could be partially protected for between $1.2 billion and $1.5 billion.

Boeing itself could resume airplane production 12 weeks after a nuclear attack if its machinery is protected in the Soviet manner, the report said.

T. K. Jones, Boeing's program and product evaluation manager, says in his report that the protection method works if industrial plants have 48 hours to prepare for an attack. However, the company said it had not yet found a way to protect the workers who would have to implement the protective measures.

The report was prepared for the U.S. Joint Committee on Defense Production. Jones is to testify today at the committee's opening hearings in Washington, D.C., on proposals for protecting critical U.S. industries against a Soviet nuclear attack.

George Weiss, one of two Boeing representatives in Washington, said Tuesday that the aerospace firm and federal government used conventional explosives to test the theory of the Soviet Union's civil defense program that machinery can be protected through use of plastic foam, metal chips, balsa wood and dirt or sandbags.

Weiss said tests were conducted using Soviet civil defense manuals as a guide. He said he did not know how the company obtained the manuals. He said they are "commonly available inside Russia."

Jones criticized "the widespread notion that nuclear war would be the end of all mankind...." But he said if the Soviets execute the defense plan while the United States does not, "the consequences to the United States of escalation to nuclear war would be disastrous while consequences might be tolerable to the Soviet Union."

He said the Soviet Union could recover in "no more than 2 to 4 years," while the United States would need 12 years to recover.

Carter sets meeting with leaders

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders whom Jimmy Carter must deal with to get his legislative program enacted are to meet with the president-elect to discuss the best ways for Carter to work with the House and Senate.

The meeting today is part of Carter's stepped-up involvement in the transition from the Ford administration to his own. The session was to focus on the nation's domestic problems, including unemployment and the economy, and "what the administration should be doing for the next four years," a Carter aide said.

Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale, who arrived Tuesday night in Plains, said a "respectful, cooperative relationship" was needed between Carter and Congress.

Carter's press office and the White House announced jointly on Tuesday that the president-elect would meet Saturday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in Plains and that Carter and President Ford would meet Monday or Tuesday when Carter goes to Washington.

Kissinger, addressing delegates attending the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Assembly in Williamsburg, Va., said he would support American foreign policy under the new president and pledged "to answer fully his questions and to cooperate to the fullest extent to bring about a smooth transition."

Those meeting at the farm of Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., in Lovejoy, south of Atlanta, included Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., expected to be the next House Speaker, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who is retiring, and the current or future chairmen of eight House and Senate committees.

Also there were such influential Washington legislators as Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey D-Minn.; Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine; Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore.; and Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash. These men come from political backgrounds far removed from Carter's few years of experience as a Georgia state senator and governor.

Russians increase aid to guerrillas

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is increasing military aid to Rhodesian guerrillas even while white and black African leaders in Geneva are trying to negotiate a peaceful solution, according to U.S. intelligence reports.

Intelligence sources say a Russian ship unloaded 18 heavily-gunned armored vehicles and ammunition in Tanzania in recent days. Tanzania has served as a relay point for Soviet arms bound for the black Rhodesian guerrillas, the sources say.

This report followed another intelligence dispatch last week saying that a Tanzanian ship had delivered Russian 122mm multiple rocket launchers and armored vehicles to Mozambique, a staging area for guerrilla attacks into white-ruled Rhodesia.

U.S. intelligence sources said they have been informed that about 5,000 Rhodesian guerrillas would be moved gradually from Mozambique to camps in Tanzania for training.

Meanwhile, the Geneva talks were reported to have hit a snag Tuesday as four black nationalist factions split over whether to put aside the unsettled issue of setting a deadline for black majority rule in the rebel British colony.

Russian military advisers have been reported in Mozambique at least since last spring and within the past few weeks U.S. intelligence reports have told of Mozambique military officers leaving for long-term training in Russia.

Soviet support for the guerrillas drew the attention of U.S. intelligence officials after the successful effort by pro-Marxist forces to gain control of Angola early this year.

Intelligence specialists say between 10,000 and 12,000 Cuban troops and at least 2,500 Cuban civilians still are in Angola six months after Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro promised to reduce his forces there.

Repeated press reports from Havana during the summer described the return of Cuban troops from Africa, but U.S. officials have said Cuban combat veterans were replaced by others flown to Angola.

Federal court jury hears bomb story

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court jury was told Tuesday about the discovery last year of a bomb at Greater Buffalo International Airport in an unclaimed suitcase taken off an Allegheny Airlines flight from Columbus.

Donald S. Fellows, an Erie County, N.Y., sheriff's bomb technician, described how he dismantled the device after it was discovered in a small, green suitcase by a baggage clerk.

Fellows testified during the second day of the trial of Ernest Arthur Skidmore, 37, who is charged with conspiracy to place two bombs aboard Allegheny flight 456 on Nov. 4, 1975.

Fellows showed the jury how he and another man removed the contents in a field just outside of Erie County.

He said the suitcase contained a beer bottle which appeared to be filled with black powder and was wired to a clock and a battery. It also contained four beer bottles filled with what appeared to be gasoline and a taped, plastic cylinder filled with black powder and 19 rifle cartridges, he said.

A second suitcase shipped with the first was intentionally exploded by the bomb technicians, he said.

In opening statements Monday, Asst. U.S. Atty. Daniel Brown told the jury he would prove that Skidmore was involved in a scheme with his half brother, Hubert Patrick Irwin, 52, to collect $100,000 in insurance.

Brown said the evidence would prove

Freddie Prinze held on charge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Freddie Prinze, star of the "Chico and the Man" television series, has been charged with driving under the influence of drugs.

Prinze, 22, was arrested Nov. 5 by a highway patrol officer who said he observed the actor driving erratically on the San Diego Freeway.

Officer Richard Ripley said he found a two-ounce prescription bottle which contained a small quantity of methaqualone, a tranquilizer, in Prinze's shirt pocket.

Prinze was charged Tuesday.

Stocks take downturn

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed lower today, set back by the collapse of a broad advance late in Tuesday's session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks lost nearly 2 points in the early going, and declines took a 5-4 lead over advances among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The market began stumbling Tuesday after it was hit with the one-two punch of news affecting two major blue chips— American Telephone and Du Pont.

A judge gave the Justice Department the go-ahead to pursue an antitrust case against AT&T. And Du Pont estimated substantially lower fourth quarter earnings.

Telephone shares traded today at 60 1/2, after a 1 1/2-point drop Tuesday. Du Pont was down 1/2 at 125 after losing 3/4 in Tuesday's trading.

With those two stocks weighing it down, the Dow gave up an early 8-point gain Tuesday to finish with a .08 loss at 935.34.

But gainers held on to outpace losers by about an 8-5 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index added .10 to 53.52.

Big Board volume reached 21.02 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .16 at 98.23.

Metrics: Old stuff, really

There still appears to be a widespread impression in this country that the metric system of weights and measures is something new-fangled, to be viewed with skepticism and perhaps even some suspicion. Many seem to think that changing over to metrics, as we're now doing, is rather an avant garde move.

The fact is that shifting to the metric system has been intermittently proposed almost since the nation was established. Washington noted the importance of a uniform system of weights and measures in his first message to Congress. As a result Thomas Jefferson, then secretary of state, studied the matter and made some recommendations to Congress.

One of his two proposals, Ronald Edward Zupko writes in the magazine Intellect, was based on moves in France toward devising a better system. It was the French who, a few years later, determined the meter's length and adopted the metric system. Since then almost every country in the civilized world has successively followed suit.

In the United States, Congress rejected Jefferson's plan and later refused to adopt a system compatible with that of France. The question kept coming up at intervals, though - in 1817, in 1863, in 1902. In 1866 Congress went so far as to make use of metrics lawful, but not mandatory. The subject was debated off and on over the next century.

There was a new upsurge of interest in the 1960s, and in 1968 the Metric Study Bill became law, in essence it provided for a feasibility study, including a cost evaluation. The basic conclusion of the study was: Go ahead, but make the transition as easy as possible over the projected 10-year period.

Last December two bills setting up mechanisms for early stages of the changeover became law. So we are on our way toward the metric system - but only after close to 200 years of indecision.

A WORD EDGEWISE By John P. Roche

Kissinger's African charade

Senior U.S. officials familiar with the thinking of Chairman Kissinger indicate his deep disappointment in the way the British have bungled the Geneva negotiations on Rhodesia. As I noted here over a month ago,

Kissinger's great safari to southern Africa was a charade from start to finish. But, in his characteristically charitable fashion, he is now dumping the detritus on the British doorstep. Predictably the sleepwalkers, the journalists who were on the African shuttle, now have a vested interest in the Chairman's cover story - it covers them too.

To recapitulate the bidding, in early October the official word was that Kissinger had worked out a deal between the Ian Smith regime in Rhodesia and the five "front-line" African presidents for a peaceful transition to black majority rule. Allegedly this scenario encompassed a two-year period of transition in which the Rhodesian whites would retain control over the security forces and a Council of State, designed to work out details. Kissinger told Smith that the five black presidents had approved this; Smith took his word and publicly announced acceptance.

Kissinger, who is no mean hand at passing the black spot, promptly designated this the "Smith Plan," called for a conference, and took off for Washington in a blaze of glory. The press on his plane seemed convinced the aircraft was superfluous: The Chairman could have walked home.

Meanwhile, back in their kraals the five African presidents were breathing fire and telling all and sundry that they had not accepted the "Smith Plan." Indeed, President Kenneth Kuanda of Zambia - one of the most responsible African statesmen - went public with the late Mao's notable contribution to Marxist theory: "Power comes from the barrel of a gun."

Once Kissinger had solved the impasse, the details could be worked out at the Geneva Conference with the extremely reluctant British stuck with the chairmanship. The logic behind this was that, since Britain had never accepted Rhodesia's 1965 Unilateral Declaration of Independence, the Labor government was in loco parentis to the white settler regime. The United States might send an observer, but not directly participate. Prime Minister James Callaghan, who presumably listened to the same British news analyses I did, instantly spotted the Geneva Conference as a bad trip and tried to downgrade it by sending Ivor Richards, Her Majesty's U.N. Ambassador, to chair the sessions instead of Foreign Secretary Anthony Crosland.

Predictably, the representatives of the various Rhodesian black nationalist groups rejected the Smith (alias Kissinger) Plan. For this they had two motives: one historical, one political. Historically it was simply untrue to say the five front-line presidents, and their clients among the divided Rhodesian blacks, has accepted the proposition. Politically, no group could permit itself to be "Uncle Tommed" by more radical spokesmen. For example, Robert G. Mugabe, spokesman of the guerrillas operating out of Mozambique was wandering around Geneva in camouflage battledress.

On the other side of the hill, Ian Smith had announced at the time he accepted the then "Kissinger Plan" that a precondition for any negotiations was the total cessation of guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia. The nationalists have completely ignored this understandable position: They are operating the familiar Communist technique, "Talk, Talk, Fight, Fight." And getting loaded up with highly sophisticated Soviet and Chinese hardware.

The result has been a chaotic deadlock, Smith and Mugabe have gone home, the other nationalists are engaging in competitive harangues, and all hands are tying the can on the hapless British lion. If only, one line goes, Callaghan had honored the conference with Tony Crosland instead of a boob like Richards, the competing sides would have gotten down to serious business.

Others, notably blacks, say Britain should finally use force on the rebels and bring them to terms - totally overlooking the military fact that Britain today hardly has the lift to put down a revolt in Bermuda. And in Washington, Kissinger is immersed in truly vital negotiations - for the publication of his memoirs.

Man, 86, plans to build plane

KINGSFORD, Mich. (AP) — At 86, Charles Heiser is building an airplane - his first in 20 years. When's he done, he hopes to fly it.

His latest creation, he said, is a "low-wing tail-dragger, two-passenger, with side-by-side seats and a 100 horsepower motor." He began construction last winter and hopes to finish it late next year.

Ohio Perspective

Ohioans go after Washington jobs

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter has reason to look with fondness upon Ohio, and many believe it will be shown in upcoming presidential appointments.

Ohio's Democratic chairman, Paul Tipps of Dayton, has passed along several names to Carter transition people in Atlanta, but declines to reveal them.

Tipps, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to National Democratic Chairman Robert Strauss, stopped short of predicting Ohio will get a cabinet post. He said it is a possibility, however.

U.S. Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, only two years into his first term and enjoying it, apparently doesn't want to leave the Senate. An aide, Steve Avakian, said the senator probably wouldn't be interested, even in a cabinet position.

Glenn, like others who campaigned for the former Georgia governor, is credited in part for delivering the state's big bloc of 25 electoral votes, narrow as the margin was (less than 5,000 votes in the unofficial count).

Carter also recalls clearly that Ohio's votes put him over the top on the first ballot when he won his party's presidential nomination in New York City last July. He mentioned it often in the campaign.

Numerous names have been mentioned in the guessing game now under way about presidential appointments. Among them is former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, who helped write the national Democratic platform to Carter's liking. Gilligan said he would consider a job in the Carter administration but has not been asked.

Ohio's top woman officeholder, State Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahey, is a prospect, along with Fran Ryan, Columbus councilwoman and personal friend of the president-elect who narrowly lost a bid for Congress this month.

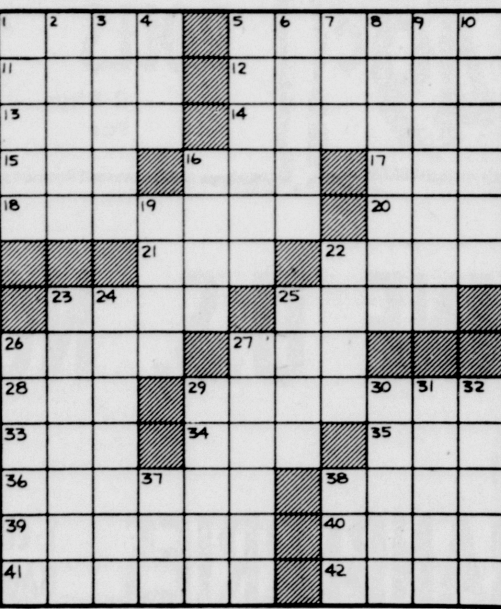

Ted Celeste, brother of Lt. Gov. Richard F. Celeste and sparkplug for Carter's primary election victory in Ohio, is seen by many as an almost certain job recipient.

Wilmington College in the Ohio city of the same name was opened by Quakers in 1872.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

His self-control is on his mind

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the woman who kicked her 24-year-old brother-in-law out of the house because she didn't want to leave him alone in the house with the 13-year-old sister prompts this letter.

When our children were small many years ago, my husband and I had sitters occasionally, and no matter what time we came home my husband made ME drive the sitter home while he stayed with the kids. He always said, "No young punk with hot pants will ever have the chance to say that I made a pass at her!"

Abby, maybe I was dumb, but the thought that one of our sitters would unjustly accuse my husband of such a thing never even entered my mind. Nevertheless, he refused to drive a sitter home. But the fact that I, his wife, was driving alone after midnight didn't seem to bother him.

How do you figure it?
STILL ANGRY

DEAR STILL: I can't say what was in the minds of those sitters, but it's obvious what was on your husband's mind.

DEAR ABBY: I see in your column that readers are submitting names for couples who are shacking up together. Well, you can quit searching. I have the perfect name. "Newlybeds."

JACK DENTON
DEAR JACK: "Friends" is still my choice, unless the Quakers object to being confused with those who are feeling their oats.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, Nell, who lives 200 miles from here, was divorced last year. She has a 4-year-old son, Terry, whom I love very much. Nell used to call me on the phone and tell me (not ask me) to meet Terry at the bus and keep him for the weekend. Naturally I always did.

Last week when Nell called to tell me to meet Terry at the bus, I told her I couldn't do it as I had plans to go away for the weekend myself. I could tell she was irritated.

Well, yesterday she sent me a telegram telling me to meet Terry at the bus again! I tried phoning her to inform her that I was going away again, but I couldn't reach her. Now I'm stuck.

How can I get out of being a weekend sitter for my grandchild when it's not convenient? With her sending telegrams and not answering her phone, I'm over a barrel.

BOILING IN LA JOLLA
DEAR BOILING: Tell your daughter that she is NOT to send any more telegrams instructing you to meet her child at the bus. And furthermore, she should phone you and give you a fighting chance, or she'll lose her free sitting service permanently.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, La., Calif 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Bicentennial footnote: The British attacked Fort Lee in New Jersey one day after capturing the New York post, Fort Washington, on the other side of the Hudson River.

Gen. St. Clair's defeat by the Indians on Sept. 17, 1791, shocked Gen. Washington when the defeat was described as "a slaughter as complete as that which hit Braddock nearly 40 years before." St. Clair lost 900 soldiers. It's immediate affect was to stop migration into the Ohio Valley, and it spurred more Indian raids.—AP

(March 21 to April 20)

A new work assignment may seem difficult to carry out, but a comprehensive discussion with close associates will produce useful ideas, guidance.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Bonuses indicated from past efforts. These should give you new incentive, perhaps a wholly new approach in certain problematic areas. Long-range plans favored.

(May 22 to June 21)

A good period for branching out into new fields, if your regular activities allow you the time. Creative interests especially favored.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Stars presently warn against driving yourself too hard, with resultant strain and anxiety. Eliminate nonessentials from your program in order to pace yourself at an easier gait.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Keep emotions under stern control. You could make an impulsive - and unwise - decision if your temper is aroused.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Flexibility MUST be day's keynote. An unpredictable period in which you'll HAVE to shelve some of your pet plans and projects.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Day offers new incentive for forging ahead. You'll have at least one opportunity to cash in through the influence of an old business contact.

Note Libra. Your outlook similar. Someone of influence would pull some strings for you if approached in the early afternoon.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Even though your day may be crowded, don't overlook details through haste. Seemingly minor factors could be most important to the overall picture of a successful day.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Everyday matters will probably run their usual course, but evening brings a surprise invitation from some highly amusing companions.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Others often accuse you of being overly emotional, of "thinking with your heart," but your "feelings" about a certain situation will be right on target.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with an extremely outgoing personality and great enthusiasm for life; are resourceful, courageous; quick-witted and unusually capable in emergencies. Your gift of leadership is so strong that you rebel inwardly - sometimes outwardly, too - when circumstances force you to take orders. An excellent organizer, you could succeed as head of any large business or financial corporation. Try to overcome streaks of temperament and overaggressiveness, however, as you could make enemies needlessly. In the arts, you prefer music and literature; would make an outstanding literary or dramatic critic.

Line extensions sought

Industrial Park rail service eyed by CIC

The Community Improvement Corporation (CIC) met Tuesday to discuss several items concerning the Washington C.H. Industrial Park.

Ten members of the CIC convened in the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce conference room. They expressed their continuing concern over loss of a portion of the rail service to the Industrial Park. Having initiated the park and nurtured its continuing growth, the CIC is greatly distressed about the inability of many firms to receive freight by rail.

Thomas Mark reported that he and William Mathison had been in contact with officials of the Chessie System railroad. They have suggested that the Chessie System extend its line to adjoin the existing Penn Central Railroad line, thereby serving Cor-Tec, Calmar, and other industries.

Mark also stated that federal grants might be available to the CIC to install its own line extensions. However, it was noted that in order to apply for such grants, special consulting firms would have to be employed. Their fee would have to be paid whether or not the grant was received.

CIC president George Winkle suggested that the members meet with a community planning consultant and discuss the possibility of obtaining a grant while at the same time continuing their efforts to deal with the problem through contact with railroads which continue to serve the Washington C.H. area.

It was noted during the meeting that the speculative building being erected by B&H Enterprises is nearing completion and the new Jack's Harness Shop is also entering the final stages of construction.

In order to assist with the Fayette County Christmas parade, the CIC voted unanimously to donate $100 to sponsor cash awards for the best homemade floats.

Union plans police drive

CLEVELAND (AP) — Teamsters leader Jackie Presser says the union has earmarked more than $1 million for a campaign to organize policemen and other city workers throughout Ohio if the state legislature enacts a public employees collective bargaining bill next year.

Presser, recording secretary of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, said Tuesday the union already has held preliminary discussions with police organizations in several cities.

There are about half a million government workers in Ohio, and 50 per cent of them are reported to be nonunion. Municipal policemen throughout the state total about 13,000.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) represents 33,000 workers in Ohio. Thomas Morgan, legislative director for that union, said the AFSCME will "match the Teamsters dollar for dollar" in organizing efforts.

Traffic Court

A Washington C.H. man, charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, appeared Tuesday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court.

Judge John P. Case sentenced Robert S. Longberry, 21, of 702 E. Temple St., to three days in jail for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Longberry was also fined $200 and had his driver's license suspended for a year on the charge.

For operating a motor vehicle under suspension, Longberry was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail.

Jury gets murder case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge Francis Sweeney denied defense motions Tuesday for a mistrial before turning over to a jury the murder case against Ohio State University student Mindi Wieder.

The jury deliberated for about five hours Tuesday night without reaching a verdict and was sent to a hotel for the night with instructions to resume deliberations early today.

Miss Wieder, 21, is accused in the shooting of her father, Morton Wieder, on June 4, 1975 in their suburban University Heights home.

Defense attorneys argued that Asst. County Prosecutor Charles Laurie committed a prejudicial error when he noted that Miss Wieder did not take the stand in her own defense. But after studying Laurie's summation, Sweeney overruled the motion.

The trial was delayed for half an hour when Miss Wieder broke into hysterical sobbing while Laurie was giving the jury a verbal picture of how the slaying occurred.

'Gloria' musicians announced

On Sunday November 21, at 3 p.m., in the Grace United Methodist Church, the Cecilians, the Fayette County Choral Society and the Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of W. Warren Parker, with accompanist Mrs. Wayne Spengler, will present a Christmas oratorio new to Washington C.H. music lovers. The "Gloria", by Antonio Vivaldi (1678-1741), which is sometimes called "Gloria in excelsis Deo" is a traditional part of the communion service in many churches. The Vivaldi setting is sung in Latin, but the English words, beginning "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will towards men," are very familiar and appear in many church hymnals.

The song has been termed the "Doxologia Magna", being an amplification of the song of the angels announcing the birth of Christ. Participating musicians are impressed with the joyousness of Vivaldi's music, its great variety of form, and its expressiveness ranging from jubilation to exquisite serenity.

Mrs. Michael Campbell, Miss Anita Pruitt and Mrs. Gene Hughes are soloists for the Gloria performance.

Orchestra members include, Mrs. Frances Core, Mrs. Charles Sheridan, Mrs. David Fabb and Miss Linda Roe, from Chillicothe, all of whom play the violin.

Mrs. John P. Case, and George Unverahrt, from Hillsboro, will be playing the viola, and Mrs. Donald Schwaigert and Mrs. Jack Brennan will be playing the Cello.

Mrs. Sidney Terhune will play the oboe for the concert and the harpsichord will be played by Mrs. Spengler.

The program will begin with a group of seasonal songs by Gustav Holst, Ralph Vaughan-Williams and Martin Shaw, three leaders in England's 20th century choral renaissance, a movement which produced music of excellence unequalled in that country since 1695, when three centuries of outstanding development ended with the death of Henry Purcell.

Give a gift for Gift Shop at Chillicothe VA Hospital

So that veterans hospitalized at the Chillicothe Veteran's Administration Hospital will have gifts to mail home to their families, the annual Christmas Gift Shop will be held Dec. 1 and 2. This volunteer sponsored project was begun soon after the end of World War II but its need is as great today, for there are veterans in the hospital who range in service from the Spanish American War to the Vietnam conflict.

The list below offers suggestions to assist anyone in selecting articles appropriate for the veterans to send to close relatives, such as wives, parents or children. Items must be new. All gifts must be mailed to their families, so items bulky or breakable should be avoided. Articles should also be in boxes, but not gift wrapped.

Suggestions for men's gifts are: stretch or regular belts, lighters, ties, stretch socks, handkerchiefs, T-shirts, pipes and tobacco pouches, scarves, pen and pencil sets, key cases, tie clips and tie tacks, boxed stationery, suspenders, cigarette cases and flashlights.

For the ladies costume jewelry sets, boxed, pearls, single strand, bracelets, stretch gloves, boxed handkerchiefs, purses, billfolds, boxed or tinned candy, pen and pencil sets, lighters, cosmetics, aprons, boxed stationery and key cases.

For teenagers and small children guns and gun sets (toy), model cars and planes to assemble, dolls, charm bracelets, easy paint by number sets, sweat shirts with university emblems, T-shirts, manicure sets, stretch gloves, stretch socks, clutch purses, records, belts, flashlights and billfolds.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — NBC tonight is airing "The Disappearance of Aimee," a dramatization of the controversial disappearance and return in 1926 of Aimee Semple McPherson, the flamboyant evangelist.

It stars two fine actresses, Faye Dunaway as Aimee and Bette Davis as her mother, Minnie Kennedy. This should make for a rousing show, no? No. The program is akin to a long sermon on a hot Sunday.

For those too young to recall the case, Sister Aimee contended she was kidnapped while swimming at Ocean Beach Park, Calif., and held for ransom for more than a month in the early summer of 1926.

Los Angeles authorities contended she was off having an illegal fling with Fred Ormiston, a young radio engineer who used to work for her, and had lied in an attempt to cover it all up.

Tonight's dramatization of both contentions — each argued in a preliminary court hearing where authorities tried to bring her to trial — revolves around that hearing, with flashbacks used to depict the claims of each side.

The show starts with Aimee at her temple here shortly after her return. She speaks of her coming court appearance with her mother in dramatic terms, calling it another sign of "the age-old fight between the children of light and the people of darkness."

Her words are so extravagantly ripe, her mother's reaction to them so apparently skeptical, you may think this is a sardonic, tongue-in-cheek yarn about how the devil in the form of the district attorney tried to stop the Lord's work among the multitudes.

Wrong. It turns into an earnest, plodding recapitulation, both in testimony and ensuing flashbacks, of her claims of innocence and efforts of the D.A. (James Sloyan) to show she is fibbing.

One scene, in which Aimee explains from a hospital bed in Arizona how she was kidnapped, tortured and escaped, runs so long many citizens in tonight's audience may be hospitalized of acute boredom.

In the finale, engineer Ormiston (William Jordan) makes a dramatic courtroom appearance on behalf of Sister Aimee.

If you can read the fine print that comes with the closing credits, you may notice the print says his testimony actually came in an affidavit to the D.A., rather than in court.

Okay, a faint cheer for fingerprint honesty. No cheer for the show. It avoids a conclusion about Aimee's guilt or innocence, which is no real sin. But it makes a potentially lively story about a lively lady preacher come out dull. And that, brethren, is a sin.

Rob Reider highlights program

DEAF marks 2nd anniversary

A special program honoring the second anniversary of the founding of the Deaf Educational Assistance Facilities (DEAF) in Fayette County was held Saturday night.

Rob Reider, WLW television personality of the Bob Braun Show, highlighted the celebration, held in the Miami Trace High School auditorium, by singing three musical selections.

Various local residents associated with DEAF spoke about the increasing job positions in which the deaf are becoming involved.

According to Darrell DeBolt, assistant director of the Agrico

Chemical Co. research laboratory, Jamison Road, stated that thousands of laboratories throughout the nation have discovered the high capabilities of deaf employees.

Janet Duvall, founder and president of DEAF, spoke about the upcoming goals and future plans of the organization. She noted that the symbol of DEAF, an old fashioned clock key, is appropriate as an illustration of the program's attempts to open the social and economic areas currently closed to the deaf.

William K. Rodgers, first vice-president of DEAF, presented an award of appreciation to Mike Flynn, editor of the Record-Herald, for the newspaper's support of the organization.

The program was closed following Mrs. Edith Jones' interpretation of the Lord's Prayer in deaf sign language. Mrs. Jones is a member of the Community Services for the deaf and hard of hearing, in Cincinnati.

Lawsuit hits Kroehler Co.

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A $4 million class action lawsuit has been filed against the Kroehler Manufacturing Co. alleging breach of promise in the company's decision not to rebuild a factory destroyed in Xenia's 1974 tornado.

The suit, filed in Greene County Common Pleas Court, is a class action filed on behalf of employees who say they have failed to find other work, but turned down other job offers while Kroehler was promising to rebuild the plant.

The Xenia tornado struck in April 1974, destroying almost half the city, including the furniture factory. Officials of the company, headquartered at Naperville, Ill., said the factory would be rebuilt and employees would be put back to work.

The company also said it would be the first to construct facilities at the new Xenia Industrial Park, the suit alleged, and repeated those promises until August 1975.

However, on Aug. 16, 1975, the company said it would not rebuild. It cited economic reasons. Kroehler employees were offered jobs in other company factories around the country.

The former employees said they incurred debts and made investments based on Kroehler's promise, and now have suffered substantial losses because of the decision.

They also charge the company's promises were made "maliciously with knowledge they were false and with wanton disregard" for the welfare of the employees.

A report from State Rep. Bob McEwen

Committee hearings held on bills

The Ohio legislature was recessed until this last week, but committee hearings have been held on four administration-backed economic development bills.

All four bills (Senate Bill 564, House Bills 1574, 1575, and 1576) would have given municipal authorities the power to negotiate reduced property taxes to attract business development in economically depressed areas.

Senate Bill No. 564 is presently in a subcommittee of the Senate Ways and Means Committee. The four House bills are in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Two other items to come up in the November 9 session were bingo (House Bill No. 1547) and pay raises for county officials (House Bill No. 784).

House Bill No. 1547 opens up legal sponsorship of bingo games to such charities as senior citizens social groups, volunteer rescue and firefighters units, civic associations, humane societies, medical prevention and treatment organizations, and youth athletic boosters. It also mandates tighter accounting for the use of bingo proceeds.

House Bill No. 784 substantially raises salaries for most elected county officials. It also prohibits "flower funds," where county employees are compelled to rebate a certain percentage of their salary to a political campaign chest.

Both bills stalled in the waning hours before the Ohio General Assembly recessed in mid-September.

State tax collections for the first quarter of the 1976-1977 fiscal year increased 7.7 per cent over the same period last year from $738.6 million to $795.5 million. However, first quarter general revenue fund receipts, excluding federal welfare reimbursements, are $47.2 million below legislative estimates and $21.7 million below revised executive estimates.

At the same time general revenue fund expenditures for the quarter were 25.9 per cent ahead of last year, up to $995 million from $790.6 million.

Increased spending is mainly due to education and welfare. Support for primary and secondary education rose from $170 million in the first quarter last year to $261.6 million this year, a 53.6 per cent increase. Welfare costs were up 42.9 per cent from $268 million to $382.9 million.

Due to an uneven tax collection timetable, November - March are often lean months for the state. This year they will be exceptionally bad. Mounting operating deficits plus too much spending point to a bleak financial picture for Ohio next year.

The high pressure system which has been the dominating feature in Ohio's weather the past several days was to move southward today and tonight as a low pressure center moved east through southern Canada.

As this happens, skies will remain mostly clear over Ohio with increasing west to southwest winds.

Festival termed 'success'

The sound of marching feet and a variety of musical numbers filled the air at Miami Trace High School Saturday.

The first annual Miami Trace Invitational Marching Band Festival was termed a "huge success" by band director Aaron Spaulding and event chairman Andy Anderson as a number of high school bands performed on the football field.

The judges awarded a "superior rating" to the Roger Bacon High School marching band from Cincinnati. The Roger Bacon field commander also took top honors in that competition.

The drill team from Fairborn-Baker High School and the majorettes from Bellbrook High School were winners in their respective categories.

Spaulding was pleased with the festival and the cooperation shown by the community, but he stated he had hoped more bands would receive a "one" or "superior" rating.

BROWNIE TROOP 877

Lavon Stevens conducted the Brownie meeting for Brownie Troop 877 held in Jasper School, Milledgeville. The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and the Brownie Promise were repeated for the opening, then the Brownie gold bank was given to each girl to collect the weekly dues.

After refreshments were served, the girls started making craft in sections. They are making a desk set which is a clay head can and pencil holder, which will be completed at the next meeting.

The meeting was closed with the Brownie B's. We have had 10 meetings this year, with all girls present.

Michigan picked over Buckeyes

Forecaster chooses winners

NEW YORK (AP) — How important are the remaining games in the college football season?

"Well," says UCLA's Terry Donahue, "my wife served me Mylanta for breakfast and I think I'll have Gelusil for dinner."

Let us ring in a couple of guest selectors and hear how they pick the UCLA-Southern Cal Pac-8 Rose Bowl showdown.

Washington's Don James: "A tossup. I think if they played 10 times it would come out 5-5. They're that close."

Oregon State's Craig Fertig: "The team that wins will be decided by the quarterback who gets the hot hand. I think USC is bigger and stronger on defense but UCLA is faster. I think they are even on offense."

So for the Rose Bowl...Southern Cal 28-21.

Last week's score was 50 right — including Kentucky's upset of Florida — and 19 wrong for a 724 percentage. On the season, it is 481-196-11 — 710.

Michigan at Ohio State: "I always feel good going to Ohio State; we have never played badly against them," says Michigan's Bo Schembechler...Michigan 20-10.

Houston at Texas Tech: A funny thing happened to last year's Southwest Conference tri-champs. First Texas A&M foundered, then Texas, then Arkansas. And now unbeaten Texas Tech...Houston 31-24.

Iowa State at Oklahoma State: What are these two losers doing battling for a possible Orange Bowl berth? Playing good football, that's what. If Iowa State wins, they have got to hope Nebraska beats Oklahoma. The only way

Oklahoma State can go — possibly — is for Kansas State to upset Colorado — unlikely — while Nebraska and Oklahoma battle to a tie. Got it? We got...Oklahoma State 34-24.

Colorado at Kansas State: Colorado is ranked 15th with a 7-3 record, including victories over Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Iowa State. Kansas State has dropped nine in a row after beating Brigham Young in its opener. This has been such a crazy conference, let's try the Upset Special of the Week...Kansas State 24-20.

Miami, Fla. at Notre Dame: Miami's patsy schedule has sent the Hurricanes against the likes of Colorado, Nebraska, Pitt and Penn State, with "only" Notre Dame, Florida and Houston left...Notre Dame 28-14.

Kansas at Missouri: Missouri has beaten four of the top 15 teams in this week's ratings, but the Tigers are no better than Sixth in the Big Eight...Missouri 27-17.

Colgate at Rutgers: The Scarlet Knights match their basketball team and complete a perfect regular season...Rutgers 35-6.

Kentucky at Tennessee: If Tennessee should somehow manage a bowl bid, it would automatically extend Bill Battle's contract by a year, and wouldn't that come as a blow to his unwarranted critics? Tennessee 24-14.

Texas at Baylor: How the mighty have fallen...Baylor 28-21.

Wyoming at Air Force: Now that the Cowpokes have clinched a berth in the Fiesta Bowl, why not a letdown? Second Upset Special...Air Force 24-21.

Pro basketball action proves hot and heavy

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

Rick Barry has got to learn to concentrate at the free throw line.

"I had hoped to make 80 or 90 in a row, but I didn't concentrate — and then I missed," said Barry, who finally saw one of his underhand tosses from the free throw line roll off the rim Tuesday night — but not before he set a National Basketball Association record of 60 in a row.

Barry's miss late in the fourth period came after he made his first eight tries of the game and erased the NBA record of 58 set last season by Houston's Calvin Murphy.

In other NBA games, the New Orleans Jazz nipped the Portland Trail Blazers 100-98, the New York Knicks edged the Atlanta Hawks 100-97, the San Antonio Spurs shaded the Buffalo Braves 114-112 and the Kansas City Kings beat the Milwaukee Bucks 100-91.

Slick Watts led Seattle with 25 points. Fred Brown had 16 points for the Sonics, including 10 in the final quarter. Barry broke Murphy's record with his seventh free throw of the game, then added another before finally missing. He did, however, make his final toss of the game, finishing 9-for-10 — and with a streak of one.

Jazz 100, Blazers 98

"This is the year for the game to be physical," observed New Orleans Coach Butch van Breda Kolff, whose Jazz nipped Portland in a game marred by 66 personal fouls — 33 against each team — and three technicals.

Physical is one thing, but the game got out of hand in the second period when Pete Maravich, New Orleans' high-scoring star, squared off against Portland's scrappy Dave Twardzik.

When the brawl ended, Maravich was hit with a technical foul but permitted to remain in the game, which did not sit well with Portland Coach Jack Ramsay.

The Jazz, leading 45-40 at the time of the fight, fell behind 54-51 at the half but rallied behind Maravich's 15 third-quarter points. Maravich also led all rebounders with 15.

Knicks 100, Jazz 97

Bill Bradley's jumper with 1:28 to play put the Knicks ahead, then they clinched it with six free throws in the final nine seconds — four by Earl Monroe and two by Walt Frazier. Atlanta's Tom Henderson scored 27 points, while Frazier led the Knicks with 26.

It was Atlanta's 26th consecutive loss on the road.

Spurs 114, Braves 112

Larry Kenon, who topped the Spurs with 25 points, sank two free throws with two seconds left to beat Buffalo and snap the Braves' five-game winning streak. Bob McAdoo topped Buffalo with 27 points.

Kings 100, Bucks 91

Ron Boone scored 27 points for Kansas City and Scott Wedman added 19, including three baskets early in the fourth quarter that broke open the game. Center Elmore Smith and rookie forward Alex English each scored 21 for the Bucks.

New Lexington pilot happy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jim Rockwell is pleasantly surprised his state Class AA champion New Lexington football team finally has made the Ohio high school playoffs.

"It proves a point," said the man of 26 coaching campaigns at Ironton, Wellston and New Lexington, "that you can still be committed to a 10-team league and make the playoffs."

"In four years," he said, "we've gone

9-1, 10-0, 9-1 and 10-0 and only made it one time. You still have to be damn lucky and everything has to go right."

Rockwell believes the playoffs are a good thing, with some refinements. "Instead of regionals, with some 65 teams," he said, "there should be two large leagues that would cut those figures in half. The winners of the two leagues would meet for the regional championships, state quarterfinals in effect," said the man who led the Perry County Panthers to the 1970 mythical state championship.

Harold Meyer, commissioner of the governing Ohio High School Athletic Association, says school principals voted down the idea of regional championships in a questionnaire about a year ago.

"We suggested the season be moved up to the Friday before Labor Day," said Meyer, retiring next summer as commissioner. "That would accommodate possible regional championships."

Meyer hinted such a playoff structure may become a reality for football, if for no other reason than finances.

"Just look at the natural rivalries, the matchups that we would have had this year," he said.

In Class AAA, the regional title games would have paired Lakewood St. Edward vs. Parma Valley Forge, Gahanna vs. Columbus Northland, Youngstown Mooney vs. Akron North and Cincinnati Moeller vs. Centerville.

In Class AA, the regional matches would send Elyria Catholic vs. Chagrin Falls or Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary, Huron vs. Columbus Wattersen, New Lexington vs. Minerva and Brookville vs. Cincinnati Reading.

Rico Carty named 'Man Of The Year'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rico Carty, lost to Toronto in the recent expansion draft, has been named the Cleveland Indians' "Man of the Year" for 1976 by the Cleveland chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

Akron soccer best

CLEVELAND (AP) — The University of Akron's soccer team has been voted the best collegiate team in the state for the second straight year. The Zips, 8-4 overall and 5-0 in Ohio competition, drew all 19 first place votes from the board of coaches.

Carty, 36, led Cleveland hitters with a .310 average and added 13 homers and 83 runs batted in last season. He was picked by the Blue Jays in the first round of the draft and the native of the Dominican Republic was the oldest player picked by either Toronto or Seattle.

Carty's .308 lifetime batting average in 13 major leagues seasons, including stints with the Milwaukee Braves, Atlanta Braves, Texas Rangers, Oakland Athletics, Chicago White Sox and Indians, is near the top among active players.

Foster sees close MVP race

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Foster, Cincinnati's slugging outfielder who led the major leagues with 121 runs batted in, said Monday that he expects a "real close" race with teammate Joe Morgan in the National League's Most Valuable Player balloting.

However, Foster said he feels baseball writers "are leaning toward Morgan."

Foster made the remarks during a baseball talk show on WLW Radio by telephone from his home in Hawthorne, Calif.

Foster said he is "on pins and needles" waiting for the Nov. 24 announcement.

Foster was a leading candidate for the award until he fell into a 4 for 44 slump late in the season. He finished with a .307 batting average, 29 homers and 121 runs batted in.

Morgan, who won the MVP title last year, had career highs with 27 homers and 112 RBI, hit .320 and stole 60 bases. Foster recently got the endorsement of Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey, who said the slugging left fielder was responsible for the Reds' comeback lead.

"I hope the writers listen to what he said," Foster remarked.

Foster said he hopes the free agent bidding wars don't force baseball to "price the game out of reach for the fan."

Helmick ties WCC record

Glen Helmick, Sr., 545 Waverly Drive, equalled the course record for the front nine at the Washington Country Club Wednesday.

Helmick shot a 32 on the first half of the course to match a record held by several people. He fired a 37 on the back nine for a 69 score for 18 holes.

Helmick, who was playing with his son, recently won the "Old Pal" and husband-wife tournaments at the country club.

Terry Miller top back

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Terry Miller, who left the Colorado Rockies to do his thing on the midwestern plains, literally destroyed the Oklahoma State record books last week with a five-touchdown, 221-yard performance against Kansas State.

For his efforts in the Cowboys' 45-21 victory, the 6-foot, 195-pound running back was chosen today as The Associated Press' National Back of the Week.

It was the second time Miller won the award this season. Earlier, he was selected after racing for 228 yards in Oklahoma State's 20-19 triumph over Missouri.

Darden back to aid Browns

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Thom Darden missed football last year, but not half as much as the Cleveland Browns' defense missed him.

The 6-foot-2, 193-pound free safety came up with his sixth interception of the season in Sunday's 24-3 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, and his teammates and coaches just breathe a bit easier when he trots out to his position every Sunday.

"Our foremost problem a year ago was Darden's absence," explains Cleveland defensive coordinator Dick Modzelewski. "We allowed 25 touchdown passes, and tried four or five free safeties in his place without success."

"Thom's more or less our captain in the secondary because he commands

so much respect from his teammates," Modzelewski added.

Darden, an All-American at the University of Michigan and now in his fourth year as a pro, missed all of the 1975 season when he suffered a serious knee injury while fielding a punt in a preseason game.

"Last year was no fun for me or anybody else around here," Darden said, reflecting on watching the Browns falter to a 3-11 record. "Now we've got a chance at a playoff spot and I need four more (interceptions) to break the team record."

The club record of nine interceptions by Tommy James has stood since 1950, the Browns' first year in the National Football League.

Northwest District prep grid teams named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dave Pierce, who lifted Mansfield Senior to a 7-3-0 record, has been named The Associated Press' Ohio Northwestern District Class AAA Coach of the Year.

Cliff Belmer of Mansfield Senior and Terry Bates, Fremont Ross' record-shattering runner, were selected the AAA Backs of the Year in all-star voting by an area panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Bates, a 175-pound senior, accounted for 1,628 yards rushing this season, breaking a 20-year-old school record of 1,598 held by Jim Tiller. Belmer, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, rushed for 1,165 yards in his senior season.

Steve Bertz, Napoleon's splendid-blocking 6-2, 200-pound senior tight end, was the AAA area Lineman of the Year.

The Scott boys, Jeff of Port Clinton and Kevin of Ontario, no relation, collected the Class AA Northwestern Player of the Year laurels, joining Tony Munafa of unbeaten, second-ranked Huron, the No. 1 area mentor in the middle division.

Jeff Scott, a 5-9, 170-pound junior safety and running back, accounted for 20 interceptions in the last two seasons and had 1,052 yards and 15 touchdowns this fall. Kevin Scott, a 6-4, 185 senior tight end, caught 32 of his team's 42 receptions this year for 735 yards.

In Class A, Dave Affholder of Fostoria St. Wendelin and Dave Myers of Carey shared the back honors, Bruce Fields of Bluffton was the leading lineman and Gene Peluso of St. Wendelin and Jim Stauffer of Bluffton split the coaching title.

Affholder, a 5-10, 180-pound senior, accounted for 1,158 yards rushing and passing, playing less than half a game against most opponents. He has 2,400 career yards rushing. Myers, a 5-10, 175-pound senior running back, was all-state last season and had 1,000 ground yards in 1975 and more than 4,000 in his career.

Peluso produced a 7-2-1 record and led St. Wendelin into the state semifinals. Stauffer, a used car salesman pressed into emergency coaching service, turned out an 8-2-0 mark in his first season at Bluffton.

The Associated Press' 1976 Ohio Northwestern District high school football stars, selected by a district panel of sports writers and broadcasters:

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures
Q. — I have heard that there is a way of suspending a ceiling using metal furring strips and would like to try it for a project I have in mind. Is there such a way and where can I find out about it?

A. — There are several ways of suspending ceilings. One method utilizes metal moldings and steel furring channels. The moldings are fastened to the walls. The channels are installed at right angles to the joists. Ceiling tiles are then set into place. Almost all building supply dealers and lumber yards sell the materials necessary for the installation of suspended ceilings. They also have literature on the subject so that you can get some idea of the nature of the job.

Q. — The water in our toilet tank continues to run after the tank has been filled. I took off the tank cover and noticed that the water was higher than the "level" mark and was running down into the vertical hollow pipe. A friend told me that, aside from being annoying, this was not dangerous and could be left as it is. However, I want to fix it. Can you tell me what is causing this and how to repair it?

A. — Your friend is correct as far as he goes with his advice. It isn't dangerous, but it sure is wasting hundreds and thousands of gallons of water. That vertical hollow pipe, as you call it, is the overflow pipe and is there for the specific purpose of preventing the tank from filling up and spilling over in case of the kind of trouble you've encountered. The problem is probably a leaky float ball, the large one at the end of the horizontal rod. Unscrew it and install a new one. The less likely possibility is that something is wrong with the intake valve, which is at the opposite end of the float ball. The valve can be replaced, but it takes a little knowledge and a lot of care. Do you have a friend — another one — who can show you how it's done?

Q. — I have inherited a coffee table which has a very glossy top. The finish appears to be varnish, but it might be lacquer. I can never tell the difference. Anyway, my wife doesn't like the glossy appearance of the finish and wants me to cut down the shine. Can it be done?

A. — Yes. Use powdered pumice and a little oil. Sprinkle a little of the powder on one section of the table top and pour a bit of oil on the powder. Use a dry, clean, lintless cloth and rub the one area. It not only will cut the gloss, but will make it very smooth to the touch. Repeat the operation on a second and third section. Be sure to wipe off all excess oil and powder.

Four accidents checked

A Jeffersonville woman was charged with improper passing after her car reportedly collided with a truck pulling a farm wagon along Palmer Road at 8:44 a.m. Tuesday.

Ruby Anders, 34, of Jeffersonville, was eastbound on Palmer Road, attempting to pass a truck driven by Everett P. Taylor, 52, of 5150 Glendon-Arnold Road which was pulling a wagon.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies said Ms. Anders lost control of her car and sideswiped the farm wagon, causing moderate damage to both vehicles. The accident occurred just west of the Jasper-Coil Road, and resulted in Ms. Anders being charged by sheriff's deputies with improper passing.

Washington C.H. police officers reported that a car driven by Hugh O. Robinett, 54, of 822 Washington Ave.,

was southbound on Lewis Street, when it struck another car which had been traveling east on Columbus Avenue, and in the process of turning onto Lewis Street.

The second car was driven by Marilyn L. Knisley, 39, of 2979 Snow Hill Road, and no damage was reported in the 5:22 p.m. Tuesday accident. Robinett was charged by police officers with failing to yield to an oncoming vehicle.

Eddie A. Cottrell, 17, of 821 John St., told police officers that as he was driving his car from a parking space on the South Side Church of Christ parking lot, S. Fayette Street, it struck a parked car belonging to Mary L. Deweese, 1020 N. North St., at 7:49 a.m. Tuesday. No damage was reported.

Backing north from a private drive on Leesburg Avenue, near McKinley

St., a car driven by Virginia Evans, 31, of 1011 Leesburg Ave., collided with a car driven by Patricia J. Ford, 28, of 2 Sunny Drive, which had been eastbound on Leesburg Avenue at 4:58 p.m. Monday.

No damage was reported by police officers.

Exchange student shares experiences in Belgium

A Washington Senior High School student shared her recent experiences as an American Field Service foreign exchange student in Belgium with members of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club Tuesday.

Lynne Fichner, a senior at Washington Senior High School, spent 10 weeks in Belgium as a part of the American Field Service program. She was one of two local students spending the summer abroad. The other was Ed DeWees who visited Brazil.

Miss Fichner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Fichner, 321 N. North St., resided in Benerlo, a Belgian mining town with a population of 6,000.

Her 44-year-old Belgian "father" was a retired miner. He worked in the mines for 20 years and retired at age 40.

She related several interesting facts to the club about Belgian lifestyles. She said as a custom Belgians eat about six meals per day and many teenagers wear dentures having lost their teeth at an early age because of too many sweets in their diets.

Catholicism is the predominate faith and the native language is Flemish.

Before returning home, Miss Fichner visited Holland, Luxemborg and France.

The meeting was conducted by club president Dr. George Pommert and the program was arranged by Richard Whiteside.

Visiting Rotarians were Darrell French, of Wilmington, and William Stout, William Richards and David Frazier, all of Circleville. George Puchovich was a guest with Dr. Leroy Davis. Dan Gifford of Miami Trace High School was a student guest.

CB radio theft probed

An alleged citizens band radio theft and a malicious mischief report were investigated Tuesday by Fayette County sheriff's deputies.

Clyde Cramer, 417 Staunton-Jasper Road, told sheriff's deputies that his citizens band radio, valued at $119.95, was stolen from his car at some undetermined location in Fayette County between Nov. 10 and Saturday.

A house on the Bogus Road, belonging to James A. Kiger, 622 Van Deman St., incurred damage to six of its windows between Saturday and Monday when an unknown caliber of gunshot was fired into each.
